IDAHO HEALTHY HOMES NETWORK

- ◎ Background
 - 2006 – shortage of EPA-certified contractors threatened HUD-funded rehabilitation programs in Boise and Nampa
 - need to elevate public awareness of lead-based paint and its threat to children
 - Treasure Valley Lead-Based Paint Working Group formed
 - 2008 – Idaho Healthy Homes Network formed

IDAHO HEALTHY HOMES NETWORK

- ◎ Vision
 - To make Idaho homes safer and healthier places in which to raise our children.

 IDAHO HEALTHY HOMES NETWORK

◎ Mission

- The Idaho Healthy Homes Network seeks to bring together stakeholders, private and public, local and statewide, to develop and implement strategies to protect children and their families from dangerous housing-related health and safety hazards.

◎ Goals

- To provide a structure for stakeholders to share their diverse perspectives as they work together on Healthy Homes Initiatives to discuss health hazards and regulatory issues, and to share resources and new information.
- To build capacity to develop and deliver public education programs and disseminate information that will increase awareness of housing related health and safety hazards.

◎ Goals

- To inform public officials and private entities of the EPA Lead-Based Paint regulations and programs.
- To facilitate training opportunities on housing related health and safety hazards, including Lead-Based Paint risk hazard reduction.
