- Attached at Attachment (File name)
  - Provided below:

The Resident Advisory Board (locally called the Presidents Club), indicated the following concerns:

1-Late rent payment requirements are viewed as too strict by some tenants who are on fixed incomes. Social Security payments sometimes are made as late as mid month and make it difficult for timely payments.

2-The new Community Service Requirements are considered demeaning by some residents. It is viewed as just more “anti-welfare mentality”. The implementation of these requirements also should come with considerable advance notice.

3-Some people view the One-strike your out policy as harsh. The context for these charges should be included in any eviction action. For example, if a grandparent happens to have a grandson/daughter arrested while visiting the HUD housed grandparents, the grandparents should not necessarily be evicted.

4-Permanent prohibition from subsidized housing for drug related offenses should not necessarily take place if the offending person has successfully completed drug rehab treatment after the offense.
