ii. Executive Summary of the Annual PHA Plan - [24 CFR Part 903.7 9 (r)]

The Agency Plan brings together the resources and policies that will direct the use of funds allocated to the Huntingdon County Housing Authority by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Housing Authority has examined its policies, purpose, and all aspects of its operation. We have solicited input from employees, residents of the public housing and Section 8 communities we serve, and from the community at large.

By examining our public housing and Section 8 waiting lists in conjunction with the Consolidated Plan of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan, we were able to identify specific housing needs in our area. Some were obvious and well known to us and some were surprising. We have addressed these needs by developing several goals along with specific objectives to measure our progress in attaining these goals.

In the past few years, the Huntingdon County Housing Authority has developed strong links with community agencies and organizations in our region. We have presented our Annual and Five-Year Plans to the County Commissioners and to the Human Services Council where we are an active member. The Housing Authority is committed to expanding citizen participation in its processes, especially among the residents of its public housing communities and the participants in its Section 8 Program.

1. Statement of Housing Needs

[24 CFR Part 903.7 9 (a)]

The Consolidated Plan of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania FFY 2000 through 2004 examines the number of Pennsylvania households with housing problems on both statewide and jurisdictional levels. The majority of housing problems included homes and apartments that are sub-standard, overcrowded, or cost more than 30 percent of one's income. It isn't surprising that the lower the income of the household, the greater the problems.

In the Southcentral region of Pennsylvania, where Huntingdon County is located, 72% of extremely low-income households experience housing problems compared to 50% of very low-income households and 27% of low-income households. Furthermore, data reveals that the highest percentage of renters experiencing housing problems is found among extremely low-income households with five or more family members. Of these households, 87% have housing problems. In addition, 56% of very low and low-income large family renters have housing problems. Elderly rental households experience the second highest percentage of housing problems. One-person, non-elderly and small family households show a significantly lower percentage of problems.

An analysis of census housing data in the Huntingdon County Consolidated Plan shows that only 23.7% of the occupied housing units in the county are rentals and that there is "not much variety in housing stock..." According to background studies by the Huntingdon County Planning Commission, Huntingdon County has a high percentage of owner-occupied housing (76%), and contains relatively few rental or multifamily dwelling units. The demand for moderate and low income housing exceeds the supply.

To make matters worse, the 1990 census data reveals the median household income for Huntingdon County is significantly below that of the state - $23,067 versus $29,069. Huntingdon County residents “exhibit below average levels of educational attainment,” and unemployment in the county is often the highest in the state. Because the county has no public transportation, residents must either have a car or live in the most populated areas in order to access services. Since there is great emphasis on preserving farming and forestland, the Huntingdon County Consolidated Plan encourages development in the already densely populated communities.

An analysis of the Housing Authority’s public housing and Section 8 waiting lists results in findings are consistent with the above figures and comments. Of the ninety-nine persons on the Section 8 waiting list, seventy-eight are below 30% median income and of the thirty-six persons on the public housing waiting list, twenty-four were in the same income group. Twenty-one Section 8 and ten public housing applicants fall in the very low-income category and only two public housing applicants are in the 50% to 80% range.

The waiting list for the Section 8 Program is consistently between ninety and one hundred-plus and the waiting period for a Voucher averages from six months to one year. The large number of applicants for rental assistance indicates that the Housing Authority needs to make every effort to increase its number of Vouchers so that it may assist families in a more timely manner. Nearly all of our Section 8 applicants are in the very low or extremely low-income range. However, of those that received Vouchers in the past year, only 55% actually leased a unit under the program.

Most applicants either live with relatives or in public housing. As a result, one or two payments per month take care of necessary housing costs. Many low and extremely low-income applicants seem overwhelmed by the prospect of the choices and challenges of finding and maintaining a Section 8 unit and lack the skills and education to budget and maintain utilities.

The waiting list for public housing units consistently lacks applicants for two, three and four bedroom units. This indicates a continuing problem with the marketability of public housing family units and will require the enhancement of our public housing communities.

As outlined in the Five Year Plan, the Huntingdon County Housing Authority has developed five major goals to address the housing needs of low and very low-income households. Although ambitious, we believe that the goals and objectives are achievable.

A. Housing Needs of Families in the Jurisdiction/s Served by the PHA

If yes:

How long has it been closed (# of months)?

Does the PHA expect to reopen the list in the PHA Plan year? No Yes

Does the PHA permit specific categories of families onto the waiting list, even if generally closed? No Yes

D. Strategy for Addressing Needs

Since there are many single-family homes for sale in the area, the Housing Authority will continue to work with the Huntingdon County Planning Commission to develop and implement a first time homeowner's program. We anticipate having the program underway within the next year.

We will address the problem of marketability of public housing family communities through use of our Capital Funds. Renovations to the kitchens and bathrooms at Hartman Village should be completed by December of 2000. Interior renovations at Chestnut Terrace (the family development not yet modernized) are anticipated to be funded from year 2000 Capital Funds.

To serve persons on the waiting list in a more timely manner, the Housing Authority will apply for additional Vouchers that become available in the coming year.

(1) Strategies

Need: Shortage of affordable housing for all eligible populations

Strategy 1. Maximize the number of affordable units available to the PHA within its current resources by:

- X Employ effective maintenance and management policies to minimize the number of public housing units off-line
- Reduce turnover time for vacated public housing units
- Reduce time to renovate public housing units
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through mixed finance development
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through section 8 replacement housing resources
- X Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by establishing payment standards that will enable families to rent throughout the jurisdiction

- Undertake measures to ensure access to affordable housing among families assisted by the PHA, regardless of unit size required
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by marketing the program to owners, particularly those outside of areas of minority and poverty concentration
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by effectively screening Section 8 applicants to increase owner acceptance of program
- X Participate in the Consolidated Plan development process to ensure coordination with broader community strategies
- Other (list below)

Strategy 2: Increase the number of affordable housing units by:

- X Apply for additional section 8 units should they become available

2. If yes, the comments are: (if comments were received, the PHA MUST select one)

Attached at Attachment (File name)

X Provided below:

Initially the Housing Authority mailed letters to the individual resident council officers. They were requested to inform their respective communities of the importance of establishing a resident advisory board to assist in the development of the Agency Plan. The Administrative Officer also spoke to the councils stressing the importance of resident involvement. In addition, letters were mailed to ten Section 8 participants requesting volunteers to serve on the Resident Advisory Board.

Since only one response was received, it was necessary to appoint members to serve. Persons chosen as appointees were representative of the population of each public housing community and of the Section 8 tenant-based programs. Every effort was also made to assure proportional representative of the communities by race, gender, age, and familial status. Those contacted were also offered the opportunity to decline our invitation to serve.

The Housing Authority has on file subsequent meeting agendas, attendance records and minutes.

COMMENTS FROM RESIDENT ADVISORY BOARD MEMBERS

1. Concerning admission of pets to family communities:

- Pets shouldn't be allowed because they require constant care and many people wouldn't take care of them.
- Pets cause too many disturbances.
- Only special pets such as seeing-eye dogs should be allowed.
- People living in subsidized housing can't afford the bills that pets entail.
- Pets should be allowed, but strict restrictions and rules should be enforced.

The Housing Authority is waiting for further guidance from HUD concerning pets in public housing and has taken no action.

2. Concerning the definition of family for admission purposes:

- Keep the old definition that defines a family as two or more persons related by blood, adoption, or marriage.

- Allowing “others” to live together would mean men living with men, women living with women – this isn’t right.
- Chaos would result from liberalizing the definition.
- A new, more liberal definition would give people a chance to get on their feet.
- People have others living with them that are not related anyway, may as well collect rents on the earnings.

The Housing Authority has decided to change the definition of family to “a group of people related by blood, marriage, adoption, or a group of persons who intend to share residency whose income and resources are available to meet the family’s needs, and will live together in the dwelling unit.”

3. Concerning establishment of minimum rents:

- As long as there is appeal for emergencies, a $25.00 minimum rent is good.
- If people can afford cable TV, cigarettes, etc., they can pay minimum rent.
- $25.00 is too low – should be $50.00 because then people would consider paying their rent a priority.
- Should be $0 minimum rent because some people can’t afford it.

The Housing Authority has decided to retain the minimum rent at $25.00 for now, believing that the provisions for appeal provide relief for those who are truly without financial resources.

4. Concerning establishing three waiting list preferences: (1) For applicants that are displaced as a result of a disaster, (2) for applicants who are victims of domestic violence, (3) for applicants who are homeless or in substandard housing as a result of a disaster.

- All comments favored establishing the above three as preferences.

The Housing Authority has adopted all three preferences.

3. In what manner did the PHA address those comments? (select all that apply)

Considered comments, but determined that no changes to the PHA Plan were necessary.

The PHA changed portions of the PHA Plan in response to comments

List changes below:

- Other: (list below)

4. The Consolidated Plan of the jurisdiction supports the PHA Plan with the following actions and commitments: (describe below)

An analysis of the Huntingdon County Housing Authority Plan by Richard Stahl, Director of Huntingdon County Planning & Development Department resulted in the following comments:

The Authority's plan identifies goals and policies consistent with the Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan.

The Authority's plan addresses needs and problems identified by the Commonwealth's Consolidated Plan including the needs of low-income working families.

The Authority's plan addresses the benefits of expanding resources by partnering with other government agencies and the private sector.

In the opinion of Richard Stahl, the Authority's plan demonstrates an understanding of housing needs in Huntingdon County and outlines constructive goals for addressing the needs in a way that maximizes available resources.

D. Other Information Required by HUD
