ATTACHMENT A DECONCENTRATION POLICY

The Quality housing and Work Responsibility Act and the Appropriations Act based on HUD guidance provided on February 18, 1999 (Federal Register/Vol. 64, No. 32), requires housing authority's to avoid concentrating very low-income families in certain public housing projects or in certain buildings (de- concentration) and to promote income mixing in public housing developments.

Therefore, to achieve deconcentration in public housing, the law requires housing authority's to bring "higher income tenants into lower income projects and lower income tenants into higher income projects".

In order to achieve the above requirements, Income Targeting Requirements have been established. The requirements will be enforced and achieved (permitting that the waiting list applicants incomes permit the authority to enforce the above requirements) as follows:

* General Rule: at least 40% of families admitted to public housing by a PHA must have incomes that do not exceed 30% of the median. The 'fungibility' provisions allow a PHA to admit less than 40% of families with incomes below 30% of median ("very poor families") in a fiscal year, to the extent the PHA has provided more than 75% of newly available vouchers and certificates (including those resulting from turnover to very poor families. Thus the provision is called 'Fungibility' because to a limited extent, it makes the targeting requirements in public housing and tenant-based assistance interchangeable or fungible. There are three further limitations on PHA's use of fungibility. Fungibility 'credits' only can be used to drop the annual requirements for housing very poor families below 40% of newly available units in public housing, by the lowest of the following amounts:

The number of units equivalent to 10% of the number of newly available vouchers/certificates in that fiscal year.

The number of units that (1) are in projects located in census tracts having a poverty rate of 30% or more and (2) are made available for occupancy by and actually occupied in that year by very poor families; or

The number of units that cause the PHA's overall requirement for housing very poor families to drop to 30% of its newly available units.

Adopted – July 14, 1999

Resolution No. 404-99
