2. If yes, the comments are: (if comments were received, the PHA MUST select one)
 Attached at Attachment (File name)
 Provided below:
 1. The Annual Income I think reconsideration should be thought to having Child Support added as income because Child Support is just that support the child. The child is not the renter. Any type of earnings the adult makes should only be considered in the income. Child support is for clothing to be used for that purpose, or whatever that child happens to need at the time. It should not be included if the adult parent is working. If that parent is not working at the time then yes add it as income. Because the adult parent will have to use it to help for rent maybe and other things. It's not included in the income for foster children any type of payments received for that child or adopted. Then why not exclude it for your own children. It's just something to consider.

2. Move out inspection: Anytime a tenant moves they should be required to leave a forwarding address with the previous Housing Authority just in case they are not present during a move out inspection. And by chance the deposit does not cover repair costs if any to the apartment, it will be easy to collect from them. If a forwarding address is required, this may also help on leaving the apartment in good condition when a tenant moves out.
3. Pet Ownership: There should be, in my opinion, an age restriction for owning a pet. I'm not trying to be hard on the elderly, but there are times I know when some people are not following the pet policy requirements; like having the dog or cat spayed or neutered. I know pets are company to some of the elderly, but sometimes that person may become ill; who is going to take care of the pet. A family member may not be around to take care of that sick person. Sometimes people don't take good care of themselves let alone a pet. In my opinion, if you are renting you should not be allowed to have a dog or cat. Because you there are people either next door neighbor who may not care for dog or cat. It's not fair to that person nor is it fair to the pet owner. If for any reason that tenant has to move due to illness and they may have to sign an agreement to take care of the pet. But there is a risk of not wanting that responsibility and leaving the pet to wander the grounds and not only being sick could lead to problems. Suppose a tenant decides to move and the place they are moving to doesn't allow pets and they don't have a place for it to go. Even though we can call the pound, it should not have to come to that. I really would rethink the pet ownership policy. I know Bremen does not have a pound so you know there could be trouble there big time.

D. Other Information Required by HUD

Use this section to provide any additional information requested by HUD.

Attachments

Use this section to provide any additional attachments referenced in the Plans.

A. Deconcentration

The Housing Authority will strive to create mixed-income communities and lessen the concentration of very-low income families within the Housing Authority’s public housing developments through admissions policies designed to bring in higher income tenants into lower income developments and lower income tenants into higher income developments. This policy shall not be construed to impose or require any specific income or racial quotas for any public housing development owned by the Housing Authority.

B. Statement of Progress for 5-Year Plan

Most of the goals and objectives are in line with what was proposed in the first submission of the Agency Plan. The Authority has done an excellent job of maintaining a drug free environment and promoting self-sufficiency opportunities for its residents. The few items listed below are those items where the Authority has identified potential problems or issues related to reaching their goals over the five-year period.

The Authority is striving to achieve and maintain an acceptable leasing rate on the public housing stock owned. The BHA has been relatively unsuccessful in this endeavor even though the apartments are in good condition and have central air.

As part of the above goal, the Authority has not yet been very successful in establishing an annual marketing strategy to compete on the open rental market or maintain curb appeal to attract residents.

The PHA has not yet established a youth mentoring program but is in the process of completing this objective.

C. Resident Membership of the PHA Governing Board

There is not a Resident on the Board of Commissioners. No interest was shown by any residents to be a part of the Board. Individual mailings were sent to each resident at the Authority. A notice was also placed in the PHA newsletter and received no response. Residents were also phoned by the Executive Director who were looked upon and possible good candidates and no response was solicited from these residents either.

The next expiring term for a Board member is 3/9/01.

The appointing official for the Board of Commissioners is James Watts, Jr. who is also the Mayor of the City of Bowdon.
