C. Criteria for Substantial Deviation and Significant Amendments

1. Amendment and Deviation Definitions

24 CFR Part 903.7(r)

PHAs are required to define and adopt their own standards of substantial deviation from the 5-year Plan and Significant Amendment to the Annual Plan. The definition of significant amendment is important because it defines when the PHA will subject a change to the policies or activities described in the Annual Plan to full public hearing and HUD review before implementation.

A. Substantial Deviation from the 5-year Plan:

Substantial deviations are defined as discretionary changes in the plans or Policies of the housing authority that fundamentally change the mission, goals, objectives, or plans of the agency and which require formal approval of the Board of Commissioners. Examples of items which could be considered fundamental changes could include, but are not limited to the following rent or admission policies, grievance procedures, demolition, conversion, etc. Exercising fungibility within the capital improvement program shall not be considered a fundamental change, but shall be defined as strategic move which will allow the Authority to accomplish it's goals and objectives under the capital improvement plan in a more timely manner. An exception to this definition will be made for any of the above that are adopted to meet future HUD mandates changes in their regulatory requirements, such changes shall not be considered a substantial deviation, significant amendment or modification.

B. Significant Amendment or Modification to the Annual Plan:

Substantial deviations are defined as discretionary changes in the plans or Policies of the housing authority that fundamentally change the mission, goals, objectives, or plans of the agency and which require formal approval of the Board of Commissioners. Examples of items which could be considered fundamental changes could include, but are not limited to the following rent or admission policies, grievance procedures, demolition, conversion, etc. Exercising fungibility within the capital improvement program shall not be considered a fundamental change, but shall be defined as strategic move which will allow the Authority to accomplish it's goals and objectives under the capital improvement plan in a more timely manner. An exception to this definition will be made for any of the above that are adopted to meet future HUD mandates changes in their regulatory requirements, such changes shall not be considered a substantial deviation, significant amendment or modification.
