BOARD REPRESENTATION

Choanoke Area Development Association of NC, Inc. is requesting an exception from the requirement of PART 964 Subpart E-Resident Board Members. This exception is requested based on the following information: CADA has no public housing units and only administers Section 8 tenant-based assistance. This information is provided based on Section 964.425 requirements. However, germane to all CADA programs and services is the opportunity to empower those who are served to participate in the decision making process. To ensure that all have opportunities, the following have been incorporated into CADA's policies/procedures.

Opportunities for Section 8 Tenants to Serve on CADA's Board of Directors

CADA By-laws have established a procedure by which Section 8 Tenants or other disadvantaged/low-income groups have the opportunity to serve or participate in the selection of those that do serve on the CADA Board of Directors. CADA is served by a twenty-seven member Board that is elected/selected every two years. This process is held in November of an election year and Board Members begin their tenure in January. The new Board will be selected/elected in November, 2001.

How Can Section 8 Tenants Serve on the CADA Board

The CADA by-laws have established a board composed of three specific groups. The first is representatives of the low-income communities that CADA serves. Ten board members are selected by residents of these communities to represent them on the CADA Board. Four of these districts are within the geographical area of Bertie and Hertford Counties and Section 8 tenants would be eligible to be elected as a community representative from these districts.

The second segment of the local population with board membership is local county governments that appoint nine members of the CADA Board. These members may be County Commissioners or their designee such as a health director or director of social services. Eight members of the Board are selected in this way.

The third segment of board membership is represented by the community at large. Local organizations such as colleges or community colleges, other service organizations, etc. are asked to select a person to serve on the CADA Board. These organizations are rotated every election year so additional organizations have the opportunity to serve.

How Are Section 8 Tenants Informed of the Process

During an election year, notices are sent to the tenants, published in local newspapers and reported by local radio stations. These notices give election dates and describe the process. Local community meetings are held and transportation is provided if needed.

Tenants may nominate and vote and have all rights assigned to any other group to participate in the election process.

Notices are sent to tenants to see if they are interested in serving.

Additional Opportunities

In addition to the opportunity to serve on the Board, each board meeting provides the opportunity for public input. CADA also has numerous committees and advisory boards that are composed of community representatives. Public hearings are a requirement for many programs that CADA administers and CADA must document community participation.

ATTACHMENT E

Section 8 Homeownership Capacity Statement

Choanoke Area Development Association, Inc., (CADA) Housing Agency, plan to begin administering a Section 8 homeownership program in the second year of the agency's 5-year plan. The agency will establish a minimum homeowner down payment of at least 3 percent and 1 percent of the down payment will come from the family's own resources. The agency will develop a homeownership plan that provides for leading the family through the homeownership process, from informing families that have the income potential about the program, to coordination of credit counseling, setting up savings accounts for the down payment, to identifying potential lenders. CADA works closely with non-profit agencies advancing the cause of homeownership for families. These agencies have been successful in accessing funds for down payment, closing and other expenses provided the families participate in a pre-homeownership education class.
