C. Strategy for Addressing Needs

Provide a brief description of the PHA's strategy for addressing the housing needs of families in the jurisdiction and on the waiting list IN THE UPCOMING YEAR, and the Agency's reasons for choosing this strategy.

The needs assessment of the City's Consolidated Plan revealed an estimated 894 elderly homeowner households and 3,210 non-elderly homeowner households with incomes under 80% of the median having a severe housing cost burden and therefore, unable to make the necessary improvements to their homes without additional financial assistance. The City may use CDBG and other funds to address this need by providing loans up to $6,000 for small-scale rehabilitation projects in owner-occupied housing. The City may also provide low-income elderly households with emergency grants up to $5,000 for emergency repairs. A homeownership preservation strategy is being considered to provide deferred loans to lower-income homeowners averaging $10,000 to $20,000 to address large-scale rehabilitation needs.

Number of existing units preserved – The Municipality of Carolina is struggling with the impacts of the high concentration of low and moderate-income families, the high unemployment and the regional deficit of affordable housing. Conversely, there is an active sector within the construction industry providing middle to high income housing beyond the reach of the low-and-moderate income working families. Rapidly appreciating property values, skyrocketing rents and the increased number of families at risk of becoming homeless are all symptoms of a housing market out of balance.

Some of the facts that document Carolina's current housing crisis are as follows:

House Prices:* The median house price in Carolina runs around $125,000. The combination of high prices of new housing and current interest rates makes homeownership increasingly unattainable for the average Carolina renter.

Rental Housing Market: As vacancy rates are extremely low, asking rents have increased dramatically. An average 2-bedroom apartment in Carolina is listed in approximately $650.

This initiative will also give a close look at the present structure of public housing management capabilities, the effectiveness of the current private management of the 17 public housing developments within the City's jurisdiction and the viability of bringing these low income housing resources to form part of the City's efforts to provide affordable housing for its many very low, low-and-moderate income residents of Carolina.

(1) Strategies

Need: Shortage of affordable housing for all eligible populations

Strategy 1. Maximize the number of affordable units available to the PHA within its current resources by:

Select all that apply

- Employ effective maintenance and management policies to minimize the number of public housing units off-line
- Reduce turnover time for vacated public housing units
Advise the applicants that they have to maintain their income and family composition always up-dated in order to avoid complications in their reviews.
- Reduce time to renovate public housing units
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through mixed finance development
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through section 8 replacement housing resources
The potential landlords can have an orientation at any time.
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by establishing payment standards that will enable families to rent throughout the jurisdiction
The PHA maintains the Section 8 Fair Market Rents for the San Juan – Bayamón Metropolitan Area, as established by the Federal Register, to enable families to rent throughout the jurisdiction.
- Undertake measures to ensure access to affordable housing among families assisted by the PHA, regardless of unit size required
The PHA will identify housing units based on the size needs to the participant families.

- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by marketing the program to owners, particularly those outside of areas of minority and poverty concentration
The PHA publishes notices inviting owners to participate in the program. The potential landlords can have an orientation at any time.
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by effectively screening Section 8 applicants to increase owner acceptance of program
- Participate in the Consolidated Plan development process to ensure coordination with broader community strategies
- Other (list below)
