ii. Executive Summary of the Annual PHA Plan

[24 CFR Part 903.7 9 (r)]

Provide a brief overview of the information in the Annual Plan, including highlights of major initiatives and discretionary policies the PHA has included in the Annual Plan.

The Raleigh Housing Authority continues to make significant progress under the 1999 HOPE VI revitalization grant. Occupancy has been completed in the 90-unit elderly tax credit building. RHA moved into its new administrative office building in December 2002. The first public housing units built on the HOPE VI site will be occupied in early 2003. Over 88 homes have been purchased as part of the off-site replacement units with roughly 117 scheduled to be purchased by December 2003. HOPE VI is moving ahead in a timely manner and is on schedule to be completed in four years. RHA has submitted a second HOPE VI application for the redevelopment of Chavis Heights, RHA's oldest development. RHA regularly looks at its policies and procedures to determine more cost-effective methods of operation. RHA implements policies to hold residents accountable and instill a sense of responsibility. RHA's policy of providing incentive single-family homes provides a reward for residents that are committed to employment. This diminishes the sense of hopelessness many public housing residents have because they can see concretely the benefits of work. They are able to "earn" their way out of the "projects" and free themselves from the stigma of public housing. RHA continues to develop the Home Ownership University (HOU) to prepare residents for home purchase and the Keep Earning Your Success Program to assist with downpayment costs. Residents must save on their own and RHA will provide funding to assist them to buy a home. Much of RHA's self-sufficiency efforts for residents relate to money management and credit cleansing. RHA is also directing efforts toward encouraging resident involvement. Apathy is a problem with many residents. RHA is upgrading conventional public housing units to more closely mirror market rate units. RHA has a schedule for adding air conditioning to all public housing units. RHA is also upgrading common areas such as lobbies and management offices. RHA is also working to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the Section 8 program which includes increasing Section 8 reserves. Lastly, RHA is actively marketing our housing programs to the public in order to achieve the high occupancy rates we have come to expect.

C. Strategy for Addressing Needs

Provide a brief description of the PHA's strategy for addressing the housing needs of families in the jurisdiction and on the waiting list IN THE UPCOMING YEAR, and the Agency's reasons for choosing this strategy.

(1) Strategies

Need: Shortage of affordable housing for all eligible populations

Strategy 1. Maximize the number of affordable units available to the PHA within its current resources by:

Select all that apply

- Employ effective maintenance and management policies to minimize the number of public housing units off-line
- Reduce turnover time for vacated public housing units
- Reduce time to renovate public housing units
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through mixed finance development Complete HOPE VI redevelopment and seek second grant
- Seek replacement of public housing units lost to the inventory through section 8 replacement housing resources
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by establishing payment standards that will enable families to rent throughout the jurisdiction
- Undertake measures to ensure access to affordable housing among families assisted by the PHA, regardless of unit size required. RHA has adopted a resolution to over-house families rather than holding units vacant and leaving a family on the waiting list.
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by marketing the program to owners, particularly those outside of areas of minority and poverty concentration
- Maintain or increase section 8 lease-up rates by effectively screening Section 8 applicants to increase owner acceptance of program
- Participate in the Consolidated Plan development process to ensure coordination with broader community strategies

- Other (list below) Initiate an aggressive marketing strategy to promote public housing units and the site-based waiting lists.

- Exceed HUD federal targeting requirements for families at or below 30% of AMI in tenant-based section 8 assistance
- Employ admissions preferences aimed at families with economic hardships
- Adopt rent policies to support and encourage work
- Other: (list below) Continue to implement the highly successful Welfare-To-Work Voucher program which encourages welfare recipients to maintain employment.

- Provide an admission preference for elderly and disabled singles over other singles.

 - Attached at Attachment (File name)
 - Provided below:

RESIDENT ADVISORY BOARD COMMENTS: November 14, 2002

The following items were discussed at the RAB meeting.

- Residents wanted to make sure that the public notices for changes were more widely discussed. Several presidents stated that they did not always get information timely. They also wanted RHA to expand its comment methods to include more non-written materials. RHA Response: Due to the technical nature of many of the polices that RHA develops and the legal requirements of documentation, it is not possible to eliminate the requirement for written responses. However, RHA agrees that many residents do not read or write very well and that additional forms of communication need to be utilized. The residents were reminded that RHA would gladly attend resident meetings to discuss items of concern. It was suggested that this should be part of the role of the Inter-Community Council to sponsor forums for discussion with RHA. RHA will also develop forms which residents can fill in for some items such as getting approval for guests to stay more than 3 days.

- There were a number of suggestions made to help RHA improve its maintenance as well as some items that residents felt needed attention. Several residents commented that the appliances in their units are old. It wasn't so much that the appliances did not work as it was they were old and had been repaired with miss matched items such as door handles that did not match the appliance. Residents of Meadow Ridge, Walnut Terrace and the Oaks complained of electrical problems such as power surges. RHA reminded the residents to call in work orders for all of the above problems. If the repair is not completed to their satisfaction they should notify their housing manager or call maintenance and speak to the director or the assistant director. Two presidents stated that they follow the above procedure and do not have any problems getting work done quickly and correctly.

- Residents wanted more communication from the maintenance staff- Residents want staff to let them know when a job is finished or if they plan to return later. They also wanted the maintenance person to tell them if the work item was going to be charged to them. Residents also stated that maintenance does not always leave a card inside their units when RHA has completed work while they were out. Some staff do this and some do not. The maintenance person does not make the final call on whether a particular item will be charged to the resident or not. Once the work order gets to maintenance, it reviewed to determine if the charge appears reasonable. If the charge is deemed correct, it is forwarded to the management office. The manager then reviews the charge. If the manager disagrees with the charge, it is returned to maintenance for a justification. If maintenance still feels the tenant should be charged, it is forwarded to the Director or Assistant Director of Housing Management. If Management agrees the resident should be charged, it is added to the next rent statement. There is at least 30 days allowed for residents to pay these charges. At this point, the resident can contest the charge with their manager. This is the resident's opportunity to give their side of the story. If the manager still feels the resident should be charged, the charge will stand. Staff will be reminded to leave notification anytime they are in someone's unit and they are not there.
- Residents are also concerned how utilities will be cut off in a unit for a month or better and RHA takes no action to evict the family. The RAB would like to see eviction pursued in these cases. They also want to see the policy for utility allowances made uniform. Their concern is that some residents get utility checks made out to them and others are made out to CP&L or the gas company. It seems residents are cashing the utility checks and still not paying the utilities. Residents feel it is a safety hazard for families to use candles and other heat sources because it could result in a fire. They also want to see RHA recapture the utility check if it is not being used to pay utilities. RHA response- The staff facilitating the meeting did not know all the details of the process for issuing utility bills. RHA will look into this situation and provide a response at the public hearing on January 7, 2003.
- The preference for elderly and disabled singles was discussed with the panel. The residents agreed that able-bodied singles should not be the focus for our limited housing units.
- It was also suggested that the next resident member on the RHA Board of Commissioners should come from the family communities not an elderly person. The RAB felt that elderly persons living in an elderly community did not have the same exposure as someone from a family development. RHA response- There has been a resident on the Board of Commissioners of RHA for over 20 years. The current representative is a senior citizen but the two representatives prior to the senior were residents of the family communities. The Mayor of the City of Raleigh appoints all board members. The current board members term will not be up for another two years. Their suggestion will be taken into consideration.
- The Capital Fund annual and five-year plan was not ready for the RAB meeting. It will be discussed at the public hearing with advance copies going out to the resident leadership.

Each resident in attendance received a copy of the Agency Plan template and the Admissions and Occupancy Policy.

DECONCENTRATION ANALYSIS
Raleigh Housing Authority
FY 4/1/03 –3/31/04

- Does the PHA have any general occupancy (family) public housing developments covered by the deconcentration rule?
Yes
- Do any of these covered developments have average incomes above or below 85% to 115% of the average incomes of all such developments? No

The Raleigh Housing Authority (RHA) has completed its analysis of the public housing developments covered by the Deconcentration of Poverty regulations. The elderly housing developments of Glenwood Towers and Carriage House are excluded from this analysis. The only communities that meet the criteria of 100 units are Chavis Heights and Walnut Terrace.

The incomes of RHA residents are low and the City of Raleigh Area Median Income is the highest in the state. As a result, tenant incomes rarely exceed 15% of AMI authority-wide. The waiting lists for both public housing and Section 8 indicate that 95% of applicants have incomes below 30% AMI.

STATEMENT OF PROGRESS

The following is an update of the status of goals reflected in the FY 2002-2003 Agency Plan for April 1, 2002 – March 31, 2003

Goal 1- Increase the availability of decent, safe and affordable housing

- RHA received 700 welfare to work vouchers and was able to utilize this allocation. As a result 250 more welfare to work vouchers were recaptured from other PHAs and issued to RHA. 950 families benefited from this program.
- RHA also leased up 416 Fair Share Allocation vouchers. As a result the section 8 program has doubled in less than three years.
- RHA has implemented a marketing plan to assist to build up a pool of applicants for each bedroom size. The apartment vacancy rate is approaching 13%. Senior housing continues to be a particular concern in our local market.
- RHA's non-profit subsidiary, Capitol Area Developments completed construction of 90-unit elderly tax credit building of Parkview Manor. All 90 units were leased by November 15, 2002.
- RHA continues to acquire existing single family homes as replacement public housing under the HOPE VI plan. There have been 77 homes purchased so far of a potential 117.
- RHA received a score of "A" under PHAS and continues to be a high performer.
- RHA continues to follow its schedule of installing air conditioning in its public housing units.
- RHA has implemented stringent Section 8 inspection standards to reduce the exposure of children to lead-based paint hazards including remediation and abatement of the hazard. This included winning an appeal to HUD headquarters about removing all plastic mini-blinds from units.
- All public housing units are inspected annually and some are inspected quarterly.

Goal 2- Improve Community Quality of Life and Economic Vitality

- Security improvements have been made in public housing including the installation of security cameras, fencing and lighting improvements. RHA is also working with the police department to improve the reporting of criminal activities in public housing. RHA has secured after hours services of police officers in Glenwood Towers our elderly designated high rise. They also provide services in Carriage House, another elderly designated complex.
- All applicants are screened for criminal records and previous landlord references are checked.
- RHA continues to partner with Community Learning Partners to provide access to computer learning centers for children and adults. There are now five centers in operation and another planned to open in the Spring of 2003 in the HOPE VI site of Capitol Park.
- A police officer continues to be housed in the Glenwood Towers units to improve security for the seniors. RHA is recruiting other officers for other location.

Goal 3- Promote Self-Sufficiency and Asset Development of Families and Individuals.

- RHA has funded job training programs and educational programs for residents.
- RHA sponsors money management and credit management programs for both Section 8 and public housing residents.

- RHA is phasing out the Family Self-Sufficiency Program and replacing it with Keep Earning Your Success (KEYS) This is a homeownership program in which RHA will provide downpayment and closing cost assistance for person that have successfully completed the program.
- Continue to offer single family homes as incentive units for residents that work. These homes are training units for potential home buyers. RHA intend to develop a homeownership program this fiscal year to sell some of these units.

Goal 4- Ensure Equal Opportunity in Housing for All Americans

- The marketing brochure has been widely distributed to promote public housing to all segments of the local population.
- Continue to provide reasonable accommodation to residents in need of such.
