Admissions Policy for Deconcentration

DECONCENTRATION POLICY

It is Washington Housing Authority's policy to provide for deconcentration of poverty and encourage income mixing by bringing higher income families into lower income developments and lower income families into higher income developments. Towards this end, we will skip families on the waiting list to reach other families with a lower of higher income. We will accomplish this in a uniform and non-discriminating manner.

The Washington Housing Authority will affirmatively market our housing to all eligible income groups. Lower income residents will not be steered toward lower income developments and higher income people will not be steered toward higher income developments.

Prior to the beginning of each fiscal year, we will analyze the income levels of families residing in each of our developments, the income levels of census tracts in which our developments are located, and the income levels of the families on the waiting list. Based on this analysis, we will determine the level of marketing strategies and deconcentration incentives to implement.

The Washington Housing Authority may offer one or more incentives to encourage applicant families whose income classification would help to meet the deconcentration goals of a particular development.

Various incentives may be used at different times, or under different conditions, but will always be provided in a consistent and non-discriminatory manner.

When the Washington Housing Authority discovers that a unit will become available, we will contact the first family on the waiting list who has the highest priority for this type of unit or development and whose income category would help to meet the deconcentration goal and/or the income targeting goal.

The Washington Housing Authority will contact the family first by telephone to make the unit offer. If the family cannot be reached by telephone, the family will be notified of a unit offer via first class mail. The family will be given three (3) business days from the date the letter was mailed to contact the Washington housing Authority regarding the offer.

The family will be offered the opportunity to view the unit. After the opportunity to view the unit, the family will have 24 hours to accept or reject the unit. This verbal offer and the family's decision must be documented in the tenant file. If the family rejects the offer of the unit, the Washington Housing Authority will send the family a letter documenting the offer and the rejection.

Washington Housing Authority Community Service Requirement for Public Housing

Every adult resident of the Washington Housing Authority will be required to perform eight hours of community service each month, or participate in a self-sufficiency program for at least eight hours every month. This requirement does not apply if the adult resident:

1. Is 62 years of age or older;
2. Is a blind or disabled individual, as required by law, and who is unable to comply with this section, or is a primary caretaker of such individual;
3. Is engaged in a work activity, Section 407 (d) of the Social security Act; [42 U.S.C. 607 (d)]

The Washington Housing Authority will determine compliance with the public housing community service requirements once a year, 30 days prior to the expiration of the resident's lease, in accordance with the principles of due process. If the Washington Housing Authority determines that a tenant is not compliant, the Washington Housing Authority will notify that resident of determination; that the determination is subject to administrative grievance procedures; and that the resident's lease will not be renewed unless the resident enters into an agreement with the Washington Housing Authority to make up the missed hours by participating in a self-sufficiency program or contributing to community service.

Washington Housing Authority Policy for the Implementation of Community Service and Self-Sufficiency Requirements

The Washington Housing Authority, to meet the Community Service requirements, offers the Public Housing Resident an opportunity to contribute to the community that supports them.

The community service opportunities, or locations, will include but are not limited to within the jurisdiction; activities to improve the physical environment of the residents development; volunteer work in local schools, hospitals, child care centers or approved non-profit social service agencies. No resident will perform community service with any political affiliation or activities.

The Housing Authority can administer its own community service program, from cooperative relationship with other entities in order to make opportunities available for residents or contract the entire community service program to a third party. The Housing Authority retains full authority and responsibility to assure contract compliance, should the program be contracted to a third party. Should a for-profit, third party be utilized, the Housing Authority should ensure that the administration that oversees the program does not have a financial interest in the entity, where community service participants are assigned.

The Housing Authority will, to the extent possible, attempt to ensure that the conditions under which the work is to be performed are not otherwise hazardous, that the work is not labor that would be performed by the Housing Authority's employees responsible for essential maintenance and property service, or that the work is otherwise unacceptable.

Should the Housing Authority have a self-sufficiency program, the self-sufficiency program activities may, if acceptable, be substituted for the community service requirements.
