ii. Executive Summary of the Annual PHA Plan

[24 CFR Part 903.7 9 (r)]

Provide a brief overview of the information in the Annual Plan, including highlights of major initiatives and discretionary policies the PHA has included in the Annual Plan.

The 2005 Annual Plan is the first for the new 5-year plan for fiscal years 2005-2009. The plan follows in principle the same format as the past five plans with no mayor change in its organic structure. Nevertheless, the data on the housing needs correspond to the figures published in the 2000 CHAS, which was affected by the last Census of Housing and Population.

It is noted that the overall number of renters in Arecibo, equal or below 80% of the Area Median Income (AMI) diminished from 6,775 to 5,047 for a 25.5% decline. The exception was made in the income bracket higher than 50% but equal or less than 80% of the AMI. This income bracket increased from 884 to 1,366 renters for a 54.5% increase. Another category that showed an increasing rate was the elderly with an increase from 293 in 1990 to 515 in 2000 for a 75.8%.

These statistics demonstrates that the number of elderly with any kind of housing problems is increasing, so the income group of tenants above the 50% AMI for Arecibo, that could have a good opportunity to become homeowners through the Section 8 Homeownership Program.

Several initiatives have been taken during the 2004 fiscal year that improved the service delivered to our tenants. These initiatives will continue as standard policies for the 2005 plan, as they are mentioned below:

1. Improvement to the SEMAP requirements in order to achieve a 90% rating for FYE 05. Technical assistance has been provided by MDStrum Housing

- Services, a HUD sponsor contractor.
2. To reach the 926 units authorized by the ACC in the may-july HUD budget revision.
 3. Revision of the Family Self Sufficiency and Homeownership Administrative Plans.
 4. Full integration of the 32 project based tenants at University Court into the tenant-based program.
 5. To continue increasing homeownership opportunities providing the down payment option with HOME funds and monthly mortgage assistance to prospective Section 8 tenants as first time homebuyers.
 6. To promote the closing of 5 homebuyer's new cases. One case was closed in December 2004.
 7. To increase the number of landlords participating in the rental assistance program.
 8. To implement the fourth revision of the utilities schedule.
 9. To provide project base rental for ten units for the elderly and 10 rental units for the homeless.
 10. To continue the revision of the administrative plan.

DECONCENTRATION POLICY

The 1998 Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act (QHWRA) requires Public Housing Agencies to submit with their annual public housing agency plans an admissions policy designed to provide for deconcentration of poverty and income mixing at assisted housing neighbourhoods.

There is a need to take steps to achieve deconcentration. In order to accomplish this policy higher income tenants will be brought into lower income assisted housing neighbourhoods and bringing lower income tenants into higher income assisted housing neighbourhoods.

Federal regulations require that public housing agencies determine, and compare the relative tenant incomes of each neighbourhoods occupied predominantly by families with children, and based on that determination, the Housing Agency will decide if higher income tenants must be brought into lower income neighbourhoods and lower income tenants must be brought into higher income neighbourhoods to achieve deconcentration of poverty and income mixing.

The Housing Department of the Municipality of Arecibo (HDMA) has determined and compared tenant incomes since QHWRA was adopted to insure mixed incomes are represented in assisted housing.

In December 2000 HUD published a final rule on deconcentration, which establishes an income range of 85 percent to 115 percent (inclusive of 85 percent and 115 percent) of the HDA-wide average income for all neighbourhoods as the range that each community must be within to achieve deconcentration and income mixing.

HDA has adopted a Deconcentration Policy within the context of the Admissions and Continued Occupancy Policy for Low Rent Public Housing that implements the December 2000 final rule on Deconcentration.

On a continuing basis average income will be monitored to ensure assisted housing neighbourhoods are within the established range, and if, based on the analysis, information shows family incomes are inconsistent with the standards set for achieving deconcentration and income mixing, names on the wait list for assisted housing will be chosen to achieve those standards, skipping names if necessary.

The Deconcentration Policy contained in the Admissions and Continued Occupancy Policy is in compliance with HUD's Deconcentration Policy; and whenever the average income of an assisted housing community is beyond the range of 85% to 115%, new admissions will be targeted to families with incomes that will bring the neighbourhood into compliance with the target income range.
