Note: The Pasco County Housing Authority's Public Housing and Section 8 waiting lists never close. These programs also have preferences. Families are selected based on their specific preferences. As families are called up, many have moved or are no longer eligible for the programs, thus creating a higher turnover.

The Pasco County Housing Authority opened and closed their Housing Choice Voucher Waiting list in November of 2004. At that time there were 1500 families on the waiting list. The Housing Authority has been working through the 1500 families on the waiting list, and is down to 198 families on the list. In November of 2006, the Authority will reopen the waiting list and take new applications. The turnover is created as families are called up, again, many have moved or are no longer eligible for the program.

Project Design Methodology

The PCHA determines and compares tenant incomes at all of its family P/H developments. On analyzing its findings, the PCHA will apply the policies, measures and incentives listed herein to bring higher income families into lower income developments and lower income families into higher income developments.

Our goal is to have eligible families with higher incomes occupy dwelling units in projects occupied predominantly by eligible families having lower incomes, and eligible families with lower incomes occupy dwelling units in projects predominantly occupied by eligible families having high incomes. The waiting list statistics indicate there are sufficient extremely low income and very low income persons to balance incomes in developments designated higher income developments.

The PCHA uses the “Aggregate Average Method” to achieve its deconcentration objectives. The PCHA reviews the annual resident income of all of its sites. Using the incomes of all families in the developments as a baseline, the PCHA then determines the average income of all of its resident families, by development. This information is kept on files at the PCHA. The PCHA will designate higher income developments those with average income above the aggregate average below the aggregate average.

There are four Pasco County Housing Authority public housing family developments; Sunny Dale, Bonnie Dale, and Cypress Villas I and II. Cypress Villas I and II, being contiguous projects, will be treated as a single entity for purposes of this analysis.

HUD guidelines allow income deviations of plus/minus 15% between individual projects and the total for all projects. All developments within the PCHA meet these guidelines, with Bonnie Dale having the maximum positive deviation of 13% and Cypress Villas I and II the maximum negative deviation of 14.8%.

The average unadjusted income for all these family PCHA Public Housing developments is $9,734. The average unadjusted income for Sunny Dales compares at 101% to the total average income for all developments. Bonnie Dale compares at 113% and the combined Cypress Villas compares at 85.2%, all being within the HUD guidelines. (Income Deconcentration Analysis on files at the PCHA office)

A. PHA Progress in Meeting the Mission and Goals Described in the 5-Year Plan

(Provide a statement of the PHA's progress against the goals and objectives established in the previous

5-Year Plan for the period FY 2001- 2005.)

Summary of PCHA Actions 2001-2005 to Implement Goals and Objectives

Management Issues: The PCHA continued to work toward maintaining full compliance with all applicable statutes and regulations as defined by HUD regulations. The PCHA had no audit findings for the FY2005 Independent Financial Audit. The PCHA will continue to work to achieve financial self-sufficiency. Efforts were made as follows to improve management and operations. Report forms were developed and implemented to assist management to improve revenue in operations, maintain its high percentage of rents collected and sustain its high occupancy rate. Steps were taken to reduce the number of average days from vacancy to a new move-in by completing required retrofitting. Prior implementations, such as record keeping and scheduling, continued in maintenance, warehouse, and inventory operations all of which continue to improve overall management of the agency.

Marketability Issues: The PCHA continued to implement a plan to remove graffiti on properties within 24 hours and also developed a “curb appeal” report files by Development Managers and Maintenance. This report is reviewed by management at regular staff meetings of maintenance and management. Developed and implemented new outreach techniques to help fill vacant public housing units as residents move to Section 8 units.

Security Issues: Continued working with the PC Sheriff’s Office to share and analyze crime statistics and work together to reduce crime in public housing through the Capital Fund Program.

Tenant Based Housing Issues: Continued to provide an outreach program to landlords to attract a larger participation in the Section 8 Program. Developed a new Section 8 booklet for prospective tenants.

Maintenance Issues: Developed and implemented a comprehensive preventative maintenance program. Worked to maintain 24 hr. response time to emergency work orders and to reduce average turn-around time of a vacated unit. Continued to ensure that renovations done are in compliance with housing code. Performed required retrofitting of units.

Equal Opportunity Issues: Continued mixing public housing development populations ethically, racially and income-wise as much as possible in accord with policies, taking into consideration the larger percentage of extremely low income applicants on the waiting lists. Continued to provide equal opportunity in hiring, promoting, and prospective employees, and worked to ensure that vendors were selected who promote adherence to EEO practices in concert with best bidder/lowest cost objectives.

Fiscal Responsibility Issues: Continued to operate in a fiscally prudent manner so that income exceeded expenses. Developed and implemented an anti-fraud program covering maintenance contracting and purchasing and rent collection, and maintained sufficient operating reserves.

Public Image Issues: The PCHA created an outreach effort in the community. The staff spoke at various local organizations to discuss the mission and operation of the PCHA. The agency participated at the Pasco County Fair with a booth at which booklets with information on the PCHA programs was distributed.

Supportive Service Issues: Worked to promote higher utilization of resident services and assist residents in strengthening their resident organizations.

Quality Control Issues: The PCHA improved their operational procedures to ensure the number of errors in tenant files/rental calculations were dramatically reduced. 80% of the tenant files were reviewed for quality control purposes.

B. Criteria for Substantial Deviations and Significant Amendments

(1) Amendment and Deviation Definitions

24 CFR Part 903.7(r)

PHAs are required to define and adopt their own standards of substantial deviation from the 5-year Plan and Significant Amendment to the Annual Plan. a. Substantial Deviation from the 5-Year Plan

The Pasco County Housing Authority, after submitting the Annual Plan to HUD, may modify, amend, or change any policy, rule, regulation or other aspect of its plan. If any item does not significantly change the PCHA Mission Statement and Goals and Objectives, then it shall not be considered a substantial deviation from the Plan.

b. Significant Amendment or Modification to the Annual Plan

A significant Amendment or modification would be a modification to major strategies to address housing needs and to major policies such as policies governing eligibility, selection or admissions and rent determinations.
