

Rental Assistance Demonstration RADBlast!

RAD Photo Essay: RAD in San Francisco, CA

"We're glad to be home; it's beautiful."

These were the words of Deborah Gibson and Herman Travis as they viewed their newly renovated unit, one of 118 that had gone through the RAD process at Holly Courts in San Francisco. Ms. Gibson and Mr. Travis have been residents for 13 years at Holly Courts – the first public housing project built in the city. With the building needing some rehab work, RAD allowed the Housing Authority to invest in everything from new floors and kitchen appliances to increased lighting that has turned the dark units into light and airy spaces. Click here to hear the rest of Deborah and Herman's story!

- The RAD Team

The RAD Photo Essays series documents the resident experience for properties that go through a RAD conversion. The purpose of RAD is to preserve and improve affordable housing so that residents can live in stable, healthy, and safe environments. This series highlights the quality-of-life impact of RAD on people. After all, the success of RAD isn't measured in dollars but in people."

To join the RAD email list, please go here.