Background

In accordance with 36 CFR 1225, all records, including records utilized by contractors, must be covered by a National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) approved agency disposition authority and NARA General Records Schedule (GRS). A records schedule is a document which briefly describes records of an office, department, or agency and provides mandatory instructions for the final disposition of recurring or nonrecurring records.

NARA Requirements

NARA requires the original custodian of the records (i.e., the program area that created the files), to have a NARA – approved Records Schedule that provides a description of all records created by the Program office, the Schedule, the Retention period, and the point at which the records can be dispositioned. Once eligible for disposition, the Custodian must then specify, certify, and authorize the records are eligible for disposition pursuant to 36 C.F.R. 1224.10(a)(b), including the Schedule, line item, and other identifiers per NARA's requirements.

Review Methodology

These Records as identified on this document have been analyzed and reviewed following all Housing SOPs by the original custodian, the Program Office Records Management Coordinator, Program Area Technical Official, and SF RMC who concur that these records should be destroyed based on the applicable Disposition Authority.

Certification and Authorization Approval

As the Official responsible for the safekeeping of these records, I certify that the records described and designated on this form are eligible for disposition pursuant to noted Disposition Authority and I authorize their disposition.

Implementation Next Steps

I request that you, the Agency Record Officer review and approve my certification and authorization for disposal of these referenced records.

Additionally, I request that the submitting office take any actions necessary to destroy the referenced records via cross shredding and following all applicable disposition statutes, including obtaining Certifications of Destruction.
