HUD will consider the feedback in determining the need for future updates.

Affected Programs This guidance applies to the Section 184 and Section 184A programs.

Dear Lender Letter 2021-06

Affected Topics

This guidance amends and further extends the provisions of DLL 2021-02. The technical changes and updates in this DLL supersede the requirements of PIH Notice 2014-11 and the Section 184A Processing, Guidelines, where they conflict.

Background

HUD continues to review its policies to ensure Lenders and Borrowers are provided with appropriate options to mitigate the financial impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic while managing risk to the Section 184 and Section 184A programs. To assist with the response to COVID-19 and the ongoing economic recovery, and in concert with its mission of sustaining homeownership, HUD is further extending its foreclosure and eviction moratorium as well as the associated deadline for first legal action and Reasonable Diligence Time Frame.

To address the financial impacts of the pandemic, HUD initially imposed a moratorium beginning on March 20, 2020, when HUD published DLL 2020-04. HUD further extended the moratorium multiple times to prevent individuals and families from being displaced during this critical period. To support the improved economic outlook and the overall progress towards recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, HUD is issuing an additional extension to the moratorium for all Section 184 and Section 184A guaranteed loans except those secured by legally vacant or abandoned properties.

On May 19, 2020, HUD established the COVID-19 Forbearance option under DLL 2020-06. HUD has extended the deadlines for approval of an initial COVID-19 Forbearance most recently to June 30, 2021 through DLL 2021-02. Due to the continued impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on Borrowers across the country, HUD recognizes a further need to extend these deadlines to allow Borrowers additional time to request a COVID-19 Forbearance, if needed.

Dear Lender Letter 2021-06

Summary of Changes

Changes for Borrowers Affected by the COVID-19 National Emergency include:

- Extending the Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium through July 31, 2021.
 - Extending the deadline for the first legal action and reasonable diligence timeframe to 180 days beyond the expiration of the Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium.
 - Extending the COVID-19 Forbearance start date through September 30, 2021.
 - Creating an additional three-month COVID-19 Forbearance extension for Borrowers initiating a COVID-19 Forbearance between July 1, 2020 – Sept. 30, 2020.
 - Clarifying the time frames and extensions for a COVID-19 Forbearance, depending on the start date of the Forbearance.

Moratorium on Foreclosures and Evictions Extension of Deadlines

Section 184 and 184A guaranteed loans, excluding those with vacant or abandoned properties, are subject to an extension to the moratorium on foreclosure through July 31, 2021. The moratorium applies to the initiation of foreclosures and to foreclosures in process.

Evictions of persons from properties subject to Section 184 or 184A guaranteed loans, excluding actions to evict unlawful occupants of vacant or abandoned properties, are also suspended through July 31, 2021.

Extension of First Legal Deadline Date

The deadline for the first legal action and reasonable diligence timeframes are extended to 180 days from the date of expiration of this moratorium for all Section 184 and 184A guaranteed mortgage loans except for Section 184 and 184A guaranteed mortgage loans secured by vacant or abandoned properties.

Update to the COVID-19 Forbearance Start Date

Lenders may approve an initial COVID-19 Forbearance period for Section 184 or 184A guaranteed loans through September 30, 2021. This COVID-19 Forbearance period must not extend beyond March 31, 2022.
