Greetings!

EWONAP has had a busy month in April and will have another busy month in May. In April the GM staff went down to Richmond, VA to meet with the representatives of the six newly Federally recognized tribes: Upper Mattaponi; Monacan, Rappahannock, Chickahominy, Chickahominy Eastern Division and the Nansemond. This effort is to give them sufficient information to become eligible under the Indian Housing Block Grant. All six tribes have shared their contact information and enrollment figures with the Formula Center and will be listed (Continued on page 2) as eligible for FY 2018 Block Grant funding. However, as none of them have any FCAS units and hardly any staff, just filing an IHP in time to take advantage of the IHBG program will be difficult.

The formula run for the IHBG won’t take place until May 23rd or so. This is not when the money will be released, but when the Formula Center will calculate the amount each grantee is scheduled to get once all the numbers are run. This amount will undoubtedly vary from the preliminary number you were given which was based on the President’s budget request of $600 million for the IHBG program because Congress actually appropriated $655 million for the IHBG program. EWONAP is aware that all of our grantees are anxious to know their final number which may require adjusting their previously-submitted IHP, but there is nothing we can do except communicate to you when those numbers become available and prepare the grant papers once the Congressional release period is over.

EWONAP was also busy with the HUD/ONAP Section 184 Listening Sessions. Our region hosted both a session at the Midwest Alliance of Sovereign Tribes [MAST] Washington DC meeting on March 26th and a follow-up session in Chicago on May 3rd. The purpose of these Listening Sessions is to give the Tribes/TDHEs an opportunity to make comments prior to the regulations being written and to further allow them input during the process throughout the drafting and final adoptions of regulations on the Section 184 Loan Guarantee Program. The Deputy Assistant Secretary Heidi Frechette attended both GLIHA/USET meetings and ONAP hosted nine total listening session while officials from the Secretary’s Office attended the first ses-session in D.C. which demonstrates their commitment to this process of engaging with the Tribes in crafting the rules for this important program. Session 184 Loans allow a tribal member of a federally recognized tribe to get a loan to acquire, build, renovate or refinance a Section 184 loan either on trust or fee land with HUD guaranteeing to the lender that their investment in the loan will be repaid even if the borrower defaults.

This emphasis on individual homeownership for American Indians and Alaska Natives coincides with June being Homeownership month. With the weather improving, this is the season to think about getting qualified for a home loan and shopping around for homes available for sale. The construction season is also underway and Tribal members can build their home on trust land and could be the proud owners of their own home by Fall. Don’t forget the tax savings for Tribal members who work for their own Tribe and live on their own reservation/trust land, as their employment earnings are usually exempt from state income taxes and products delivered to trust land are generally exempt from sales taxes.

Best Regards,

Mark Butterfield, EWONAP Administrator
EUONAP Regional News — WELCOME VIRGINIA TRIBES!

THE EWONAP TEAM WOULD LIKE TO CONGRATULATE:

THE SIX VIRGINIA TRIBES

ON THEIR RECENT FEDERAL RECOGNITION!

We are excited to provide technical assistance and look forward to an ongoing partnership.

Chickahominy Indian Tribe members originally lived in permanent villages along the Virginia river that still bears its name. The Treaty of 1646 displaced the Chickahominy people from this area and set aside land for them in the Pamunkey Neck area of Virginia. As the settlers prospered, they crowded the Chickahominy Tribe out of this area as well. The Chickahominy families began a gradual migration to the area called the Chickahominy Ridge, where they now reside.

Chickahominy Tribe Eastern Division is a non-reservation Eastern Woodlands Tribe of about 164 members that continues to have its roots in what is now known as the state of Virginia before the colonists migrated east from England. The Tribe is five miles East of Providence Forge Virginia, which is located in rural New Kent County.

The Upper Mattaponi Tribe owns 32 acres of land and are a proud and humble people of strong character and values, with much optimism and hope for the future. Many of the members live in King William County.

The Rappahannock Tribe’s mission is to preserve culture, social structures, and political structures while educating the public on the rich contributions that Rappahannocks have made and continue to make to Virginia and the Nation.

Nansemond Indian Tribe are the indigenous people of the Nansemond River, a 20-mile long tributary of the James River in Virginia. Their tribe was part of the Tsenacomoco (or Powhatan paramount chiefdom) which was a coalition of approximately 30 Algonquian Indian tribes distributed throughout the northern, southern, and western lands surrounding the Chesapeake Bay.

With over 2,100 members, the Monacan Nation’s Bear Mountain in Amherst County has been the home of the Monacan people for more than 10,000 years. The earliest written histories of Virginia record that in 1607, the James River Monacan (along with their Mannahoac allies on the Rappahannock River) controlled the area between the Fall Line in Richmond and the Blue Ridge Mountains.

This report from the Housing Assistance Council (HAC), Exploring the Challenges and Opportunities for Mortgage Finance in Indian Country, examines mortgage lending to American Indian and Alaska Natives particularly activity on federally recognized reservation lands (“reservations”). The analysis touches on the historic and social factors that have helped create the constrained mortgage lending environment on reservation lands. In addition to barriers like geographic isolation, economic distress, and mistrust, which are often found in rural areas, these lands have a nonstandard land ownership situation and an extra layer of federal oversight, as well. A review of mortgage lending data for Native American borrowers confirms activity is constrained on reservations. Such activity includes low origination rates, high denial rates, and a high proportion of loans made for manufactured homes.

The new Community Strategies (https://www.cdc.gov/physicalactivity/community-strategies/) website currently contains a package of resources supporting the Community Guide Recommendation, including: A listing of Real World Examples from communities of various sizes who have implement projects of various scopes and costs. An Implementation Resource Guide broken into 6 distinct steps. A Visual Guide to concrete community changes.

Urban Institute Offers Recommendations for Building Evidence on How Housing Vouchers can Help Residents Access Low-Poverty Communities

Urban Institute suggests employing a tiered-evidence grantmaking framework - which focuses on funding interventions with proven success while also investing in new, innovative approaches - instead of implementing a one-time demonstration. This framework would expand the grant size by the rigor of the evidence backing a proposed intervention and require all interventions to be evaluated, which can help build their evidence base and test effective approaches in new contexts. The blog post serves as a preview of a forthcoming paper on the subject, which proposes an “opportunity demonstration” at HUD that would use a tiered-evidence grantmaking framework as well include other interventions related to accessing and staying in low-poverty neighborhoods, such as project-based rental assistance, affordable housing preservation and inclusionary zoning. Enterprise Section 4 Capacity Building Grant Opportunities

As part of our ongoing commitment to support the development and preservation of affordable housing and sustainable communities, earlier this week Enterprise released two Section 4 Capacity Building grant funding opportunities. Applications for our 2018 funding round will follow a two-step application process: Enterprise will accept letters of intent (LOI) May 1 – 29 (submission deadline: May 29, 11:59 p.m. EDT). Successful applicants will be invited to submit a full proposal for funding in the week of July 9, and the deadline for submitting full proposal is August 6, 11:59 p.m. EDT. Awards are expected to be announced by September 17. On Wednesday, May 9, Enterprise will host a webinar to review and answer questions on the national LOI requirements, and on Thursday, May 10, we will host a webinar to review and answer questions on the Rural & Native American LOI requirements.

Enterprise is accepting applications for two small grant opportunities for affordable housing developers and organizations interested in furthering sustainable practices in their current projects. Pre-development Grants of $5,000 each are available to 10 affordable housing development organizations committed, through one current project, to improving pre-development and engagement practices with residents and stakeholders. Excellence in Active Design Grants are $15,000 each and available for five affordable housing development organizations who are employing creative design strategies to encourage physical activity within one of their projects. The submission deadline for the two funding opportunities is Friday, May 18, 2018.

The Section 184 Indian Home Loan Guarantee Program is a home mortgage specifically designed for American Indian and Alaska Native families, Alaska Villages, Tribes, or Tribally Designated Housing Entities. Section 184 loans can be used both on and off native lands for new construction, rehab, the purchase of an existing home, or for refinancing.

Section 184 is synonymous with home ownership in Indian Country. As of March 2016, the Section 184 program has guaranteed over 33,728 loans, which represents over $5.4 billion dollars in guaranteed funds.

Within the Eastern Woodlands region, over 3,938 loans have been made bringing $565 million in private capital directly to Tribal Members. Tribes and TDHEs can also use Section 184 loans to achieve their housing development goals. Some benefits include:

- Low residential mortgage interest rates
- Lower monthly fees than standard PMI
- One time loan guarantee fee (1.5%)
- May utilize up to 15% of loan funds for site infrastructure costs
- Low down payment
- No household income restrictions
- Buy, Rehab, Refi or Build
- Finance up to 20 units at a time.

HUD ONAP Title VI Loan Guarantee Program. Title VI loans enable Indian Housing Block Grant recipients to leverage up to 5 times their IHBG ‘Need’ funding to finance affordable housing development by pledging future IHBG grant funds as security for repayment of the loan. A private lender provides the financing and HUD provides the guarantee to the lender. To visit the Title VI website, click here. ONAP’s Office of Loan Guarantee has advised that Title VI loans are limited this fiscal year, so the first funded loans will go to applicants whose loan package is the most complete first.
