GREETINGS FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

The new year has begun, and we are half way through winter. So far, the winter has been mild here in Chicago but regular bulletins from Wisconsin/Minnesota demonstrate that winter storms can be very spotty. Our grantees in Alabama and North Carolina experienced some real cold for a week in January with at least one office closing for the week due to slick roads and hazardous travel. Massachusetts and New England were hit with a cyclone "bomb" that shut down work for a period of time. ONAP itself was shut down for a day due to the government closure on Monday January 22, 2018 but was back up and running the next day. HUD is once again operating under a Continuing Resolution or CR until February 8, 2018 when Congress will once again face a decision to fund the government for the balance of the year or temporarily with another CR.

Due to the uncertainty of governmental operations, ONAP urges TDHEs and Tribal grantees to carefully monitor their cash flow and requirements. No one wants to be caught with a zero balance in their eLOCCS account during a shutdown. You will be able to withdraw money from your eLOCCS grant during a shutdown unless you are on a LOCCS edit, which requires a live person here in the ONAP office to approve your expenditures. This is also why we suggest that you consider more frequent draws than once a month to avoid needing a large amount from your account all at once but not being able to draw it down due to some glitch which requires ONAP staff involvement. That way your risk of exposure due to lack of funding is dramatically lowered and you eliminate one of the prime reasons for getting locked out of eLOCCS, which is inactivity for more than 60 days.

ONAP was recently informed that the long-delayed Virginia Tribal Recognition Bill was finally passed on the consent calendar this month. It had been passed by the House back in May 2017 and was just signed into law by President Trump this Monday! This bill grants recognition to six small Virginia Tribes that were encountered by the colonists before there was a United States. Most, but not all, of the tribes are located near Richmond, Virginia and were part of the Powhatan Confederacy which included the previously recognized Pamunkey Tribe of Virginia. These newly recognized Tribes include the Upper Mattaponi, Chickahominy, Eastern Chickahominy, Rappahannock, Monacan and Nansemond. Preliminary reports indicate that their combined membership numbers total about 4,400 members. The Recognition bill does not permit gaming but gives each of them access to all programs that other Federally Recognized Tribes have including from HUD the Indian Housing Block Grant [IHBG] and Indian Community Development Block Grant [ICDBG], ROSS and Imminent Threat programs.

ONAP looks forward to working with the newly recognized Tribes and wishes them great success in accessing the services they are now entitled to including with our sister agencies such as the BIA, Indian Health Service, etc. The newly recognized Tribes are now eligible for membership in United and Southeastern Tribes [USET] and the National American Indian Housing Association [NAIHC]. These tribes are theoretically eligible for IHBG grants in the Federal Fiscal Year 2019 depending on when their fiscal year is declared.

Best Regards,

EWONAP Regional News: Tribal Success Story!

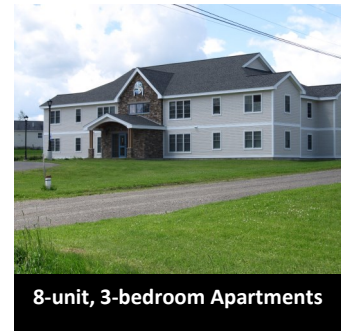

A critical part of EWONAP's role is to provide funding, technical assistance and ongoing support for your projects and we are always excited to see how the work all comes together in the end. Recently, the Houlton Band of Maliseet Indians shared the following project update:

"The Houlton Band of Maliseet Indians is a small tribe of 1,700 members located in Houlton, Maine. The Indian Community Development Block Grant funding has allowed us to expand our Health Center from a modular home with very little privacy and inability to provide services, to a 7,200 sq. ft. facility. This facility provides health services to all members within our service area, and is within walking distance of the members living on the NA-HASDA Riverside Village. Our services include clinical health and wellness, behavioral health, fitness and an array of prevention activities. We are developing programs to host free dental well check clinics. Our health services also focus on fitness and with additional ICDBG funding, we were able to construct an athletic field that is located in our community on the riverside of the Meduxnekeag.

ICDBG/ARRA funding has provided us with an outstanding opportunity to create an eight-unit, three-bedroom apartment building. This greatly reduced the waiting list and provided our members with safe and affordable housing.

Currently and under the final stages of construction, the tribe is completing a youth center. This center will be a safe place for after-school activities, child care and cultural activities such as traditional meal preparation, regalia and basket making, sacred fires and language classes.

We understand ICDBG funds are immensely competitive and we understand the importance of always attending pre-and post-award trainings as well as keeping the lines of communication open and speaking frequent with our grant specialists. We have utilized the resources of the ICDBG program to build our community. These projects have had enormous impacts that will improve the quality of life for our Maliseet people for generations to come and assist us in our movement toward a sustainable future."
