Streamlining Warranty Requirements for Federal Housing Administration (FHA)
Single Family Mortgage Insurance: Removal of the Ten-Year Protection Plan Requirements – Final Rule Published

This final rule streamlines the home warranty requirements for FHA single family mortgage insurance by removing the regulations that require borrowers to purchase 10-year protection plans in order to qualify for certain mortgages on newly constructed single family homes. This action conforms with changes made by the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008 (HERA).

The final rule also introduces greater flexibility and allows consumers to pursue cost-minimizing strategies without measurably increasing the risk to FHA of affected loans. Those consumers who opt to purchase warranties will be able to choose from the entire market of warranty providers, not just those approved by HUD.

HUD is retaining the requirement that the Warranty of Completion of Construction (form HUD-92544) be executed by the builder and the buyer of a new construction home, as a condition for FHA mortgage insurance.

This final rule becomes effective March 14, 2019.
