30-Day Notice of Proposed Information Collection: Application for FHA-Insured Mortgages (Loan-Level Certifications)

On May 19, 2020, the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) published a 30-day Federal Register (FR) Notice (Docket No. FR-7024-N-22), which is an information collection requirement that outlines proposed revisions to FHA's loan-level certification.

This Notice is a follow-up to the 60-day FR Notice that published on October 25, 2019, which solicited public comments on the proposed draft of the significant revisions to the Form HUD-92900-A (Addendum to Uniform Residential Loan Application), that posted to the FHA Drafting Table last year.

This 30-day Notice provides responses to comments received from the 60-day Notice. No further changes or updates to Form HUD-92900-A from the original Notice are proposed. However, additional public comments may be submitted through June 18, 2020.
