Instructions for Model Forward Mortgages (2001 GSE Security Instrument)

The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Model Forward Mortgage is modeled generally on the Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae (hereinafter Government Sponsored Enterprises or GSEs) security instrument Uniform Covenants. FHA has identified several provisions in the GSE Uniform Covenants that are inconsistent with either FHA requirements or policy and has modified the Model Forward Mortgage accordingly. Below, FHA identifies which modifications are FHA-Specific Modifications. To the extent that any variance between the GSE Uniform Covenants and FHA Model Forward Mortgage is not identified as an FHA-Specific Modification, the Mortgagee may exercise discretion in adopting the change. To the extent that any variance is identified as an FHA-Specific Modification, however, the Mortgagee should adopt the change or use substantially similar language. Any future changes to the provisions of the GSE Uniform Covenants that are not currently identified as FHA-Specific Modifications may be incorporated in a manner that remains consistent with all relevant statutes and regulations.

With respect to the GSE Non-Uniform Covenants, the Mortgagee should refer to the relevant jurisdiction-specific Non-Uniform Covenants and incorporate them into the mortgage. The Mortgagee should also make any required conforming revisions (e.g., internal paragraph references).

When a Rider to the security instrument is required, it is the responsibility of the Mortgagee to insert conforming revisions to ensure that the Rider's references to the security instrument are correct.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the Mortgagee bears ultimate responsibility for ensuring that the security instrument is a valid, enforceable first lien in compliance with all relevant state and federal laws and requirements, including, but not limited to FHA regulations and published requirements. To the extent that any FHA-Specific Modification, either in the form presented in the FHA Model Forward Mortgage or in a substantially similar form drafted by the Mortgagee, cannot be incorporated into the mortgage consistent with all applicable laws, regulations and FHA requirements, the Mortgagee should contact the Department for further guidance.

FHA-Specific Modifications include:

Definitions:¹

- Changes made to the GSE mortgage definition of "Loan."
- Addition of definition for "Secretary."

Section 18

- Addition of the third sentence of FHA Model Forward Mortgage Section 18.

Section 20

- Addition of FHA Model Forward Mortgage Section 20, which incorporates and adds to the second paragraph of GSE Uniform Covenants Section 10.

² FHA’s intent with respect to this section is to give effect to FHA’s policies on the application of the periodic payment, or “monthly payment,” as that term is used in the HUD regulations. To the extent that, under relevant state and federal law, the language provided in this FHA-Specific Modification results in ambiguity or conflict, specifically with respect to any other provision of the mortgage or note, and assuming that the note and mortgage are otherwise compliant with FHA regulations and requirements, the Mortgagee may revise this provision as necessary consistent with FHA requirements.

³ Where other relevant law and regulation would permit more specific language to be included, the mortgagee may adopt such language provided it is not inconsistent with FHA regulations and requirements.
