A Message from the Deputy Regional Administrator

Last year around this time, the nation was at the threshold of a major health crisis. Life as we knew it was about to change, turning our sense of normalcy upside down and our homes into offices.

In my own reflections, I think of how quickly I transitioned from being the director of HUD’s Pittsburgh Field Office to deputy regional administrator. It has been a tumultuous time, but I’m proud to serve in my new role, especially during this critical period in our nation.

In the region, we stand ready to work alongside our partners and stakeholders to support the priorities of the Biden-Harris Administration—whether that’s making sure communities can access COVID-19 relief through the American Rescue Plan (ARP) or simply doing our part to increase affordable housing through the American Jobs Plan.

We will persist in this COVID-19 environment. Our placed-based initiatives will help guide the way to recovery, ensuring our most vulnerable populations have what they need to get back on their feet.

I can’t wait to hear uplifting stories of how the ARP is changing lives for the better. And soon, I hope to meet our new Secretary face to face.

Welcome, Secretary Marcia L. Fudge, on behalf of the entire Mid-Atlantic team.

Jane E. Miller
Deputy Regional Administrator
AT THE HELM:
Secretary Marcia L. Fudge

In March, Secretary Marcia L. Fudge was sworn in as the 18th Secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Since then, she has made a number of important announcements and statements, discussing efforts to expand and preserve affordable housing. Here are a few of her video messages and funding announcements.

“Throughout my life of public service, my purpose has always been to do the most for those who have the least.”

Major news and events

April is Fair Housing Month

Each April, HUD observes Fair Housing Month. This year’s theme, Fair Housing: More than Just Words, focuses on raising awareness of everyone’s right to fair housing, taking the nation back to the basics. Fifty-three years later, HUD’s enforcement of the Fair Housing Act is still going strong, with the Biden-Harris Administration’s commitment to advance equity in housing. Fair Housing News

In March, HUD announced major fair housing news in Pennsylvania. The first announcement involved the settlement with apartment complex owners and managers in the Philadelphia area, resolving claims of disability discrimination at 19 apartment complexes. A few weeks later, the Department announced it is charging the husband-and-wife owners of apartments in Oil City, Pa., with sexual harassment and retaliation against a female resident. Learn more.

HUD Mid-Atlantic’s Office of Field Policy and Management responded to more than 10,000 inquiries from HUD-assisted households and the general public between March 2020 and March 2021.

Mixed Status Rule Withdrawal
HUD withdrew a proposed rule that would have impacted families of mixed immigration status for HUD-subsidized housing. Because this proposed rule was not finalized, there are no changes to HUD programs that must be implemented. Current eligibility requirements for HUD programs will not change. Learn more by contacting Sheppard.V.Williams@hud.gov, 215.430.6628.

Reducing Youth Homelessness
HUD partnered with the Administration for Children and Families and the National Center for Housing and Child Welfare in March to hold a regionwide information session on an initiative designed to permanently house and support vulnerable young adults who have aged-out of the foster care system. Learn more by contacting Marisa.I.Gonzalez@hud.gov, 215.430.6645.

Mid-Atlantic Section 3 Webinars
Across the region, Business and Economic Empowerment Webinars are being held on Section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968. Recent changes to the Section 3 rule, finding and posting job and training opportunities and reporting requirements have been discussed. For more information or to schedule a meeting, contact John.C.McLaughlin@hud.gov, 215.430.6647.
