Regional Administrator Visits Pine Ridge

Newly appointed Regional Administrator (RA) Evelyn Lim recently toured the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, learning of the good things that are happening and the challenges that they struggle with. RA Lim toured Thunder Valley’s development where they are building new homes and apartments. Over 50 applications were received for a new 12-unit apartment complex. Lim also visited with local artists who were selling their artwork to visitors at Wounded Knee.

RA Lim visited with Re-Member, a non-profit group that hosts over 1,300 volunteers for 6 days each year, with 3 days of cultural awareness and 3 days of volunteer labor. The labor involves assisting residents on the reservation with various home repair projects, including installing out-houses. Lim met with John Haas, the new Executive Director of the Oglala Sioux Lakota Housing Authority, who provided an overview and history of the housing authority. With staff from Oglala Sioux Tribal Partnership for Housing, Lim toured a newly constructed tiny house that will be occupied by a veteran. (see New Regional Administrator on page 3)

Finding Opportunity in Opportunity Zones

On December 12, 2018, President Trump established the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council, which consists of 13 agencies whose mission is to “jump-start” development in urban and rural communities through the creation of Opportunity Zones. Opportunity Zones were created as part of the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act as low-income areas in which new investments are eligible for preferential tax treatment. The localities are chosen by the state and certified by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The following 17 counties in South Dakota have areas within them designated Opportunity Zones: Beadle, Brookings, Brown, Brule, Charles Mix, Clay, Codington, Dewey, Lake, Lyman, Minnehaha, Pennington, Roberts, Oglala Lakota County, Todd, Tripp, and Yankton. To see a map of these areas, visit the Treasury Department's website.

In addition to the tax incentives, FHA just announced reduced mortgage fees for multifamily property owners who invest in Opportunity Zones. For transactions that are “broadly affordable”, FHA is reducing the application fee from the current $3 per thousand dollars of the requested mortgage amount to $1 per thousand dollars of the requested mortgage amount. For transactions that are “market rate” and “affordable”, FHA is reducing the application fee from $3 to $2 per thousand dollars of the requested mortgage amount. (continued on page 4)
Native Homeownership Tour and Convening

The South Dakota Native Homeownership Coalition’s annual coalition tour and convening will be held on the Rosebud Reservation June 6, 2019. The event will include learning about the exciting work underway and plans for the future, in addition to hearing from tribal leadership and state representatives. The tour will feature the Sicangu Village Development, the Ojíninjikta Housing Development Corporation (manufactured housing plant), Rosebud Economic Development Corporation’s (REDCO) community development site, an innovative solar energy project, and Indian Health Services apartments built by REDCO’s construction company.

In addition to the tour, in-depth discussions will be held on the Sicangu Nation’s model land management system, workforce development efforts, resources for renovation and rehab projects, and veterans’ issues. For more information or to register to attend email the South Dakota Native Homeownership Coalition.

Proposed Lender Certification Requirements

In an effort to encourage more lender participation in FHA loans, FHA has proposed several revisions to its lender certification requirements. FHA is proposing revisions to the Addendum to Uniform Residential Loan Application (Form 92900-A) and the annual lender certification form. Also, FHA is revising its Defect Taxonomy to clarify the loan defect categories and how FHA weighs the severity of each defect. Stakeholders may submit feedback during the 30-day period that ends June 8th. For more information, visit FHA’s drafting table.

Clarification for Revitalization Areas

HUD published a Federal Register Notice to solicit comments on the proposed criteria for designating revitalization areas. Revitalization areas were created with the intention of revitalizing low income areas by offering the homes for sale at a discount. The designated Opportunity Zones may overlap these areas; therefore, clarification is needed on what the criteria are in effort to provide expanded homeownership opportunities.

Section 3 Program

June 3, 2019 is the deadline to submit comments on the proposed rule to make the Section 3 program more efficient & effective. Section 3 requires recipients of specific HUD assistance to provide training, employment, etc. to low-income persons, especially those who receive assistance for housing, and to businesses that provide economic opportunities to low-income persons.

A Section 3 resident is one who lives in public housing or in the area of a HUD-assisted project. A Section 3 business is 51 percent or more owned by Section 3 residents; or employs Section 3 residents for at least 30 percent of its full-time staff; or provides evidence of a commitment to subcontract in excess of 25 percent of the dollar award of all subcontracts to businesses that meet the above criteria.

The Section 3 Opportunity Portal helps grantees and businesses meet their obligations for employment and contracting; and helps Section 3 residents find jobs. The Section 3 Business Registry helps businesses check to see if they qualify, self-register, and search for existing businesses. Recipients of HUD funding are also able to search for registered businesses. The Section 3 Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ’s) offers more information about the program.

Facebook Charged

On March 29th, HUD charged Facebook with violating the Fair Housing Act by encouraging, enabling, and causing housing discriminations through the company’s advertising platform. Under the Fair Housing Act, it is unlawful to discriminate in housing based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, and disability.

Following the investigation of a complaint filed August 13, 2018, HUD found that Facebook unlawfully discriminates by restricting who are able to view housing-related ads on their platforms and across the internet. HUD also claims the company mines extensive data from its users and uses that data to determine which of its users view housing-related ads based in part on the protected characteristics, which results in limiting their housing choices.

In particular, the charge states that Facebook enabled advertisers to exclude parents, non-American-born, non-Christian, accessibility, Hispanic culture, etc. HUD claims Facebook enabled advertisers to exclude people based on where they live by drawing a line around their neighborhoods. Facebook also allegedly allowed the option of showing ads only to men or only to women. Read HUD’s charge.

Over 50 housing professionals attended a smoke free multi-housing workshop on May 7, 2019 in Rapid City. Participants learned the health impacts and the true cost of smoking in multifamily housing. They were assured that smoking is not a protected class and that prohibiting smoking in and around their property is legal.

The audience received tips on how to implement no smoking policies and learned enforcement tactics for violators. Participants heard from professional cleaning companies on how to best clean units that have been smoked in and learned of the damages that can’t been seen. They also learned of costs as a result of the smoke damage each time a unit is rented again.

Protecting Against Carbon Monoxide

Carbon monoxide is an odorless gas produced by fuel-fired appliances such as stoves, fireplaces, gas ranges, and furnaces. When the gas builds up in enclosed spaces it can be deadly. HUD recently sent a notice to public housing authorities and private owners of its subsidized housing, encouraging them to protect their residents by having working carbon monoxide detectors in all of their properties. As a result of the unevenness of state and local laws, HUD is proposing a new rule that would require them in all HUD-subsidized housing. Read more.
