Mortgagee Letter 2015-08

Subject: Electronic Appraisal Delivery (EAD) portal for Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Insured Single Family Mortgages

Purpose: This Mortgagee Letter (ML) announces FHA’s implementation of the EAD portal and provides information necessary for mortgagees to prepare for delivering origination appraisals (forward and reverse) through FHA’s new EAD portal.

Effective Date: Delivery of an Electronic Appraisal through the EAD portal will be required for all case numbers assigned on or after June 27, 2016.

To facilitate the transition to using the EAD portal, FHA will permit mortgagees to either deliver appraisals through the EAD portal, or continue to deliver appraisals in accordance with the Post Closing and Endorsement Process in 4000.1 FHA Single Family Housing Policy Handbook for case numbers assigned on or before June 26, 2016.

FHA will permit mortgagees and/or their designated third-party service providers to deliver appraisals through the EAD portal as soon as they receive access credentials and validate that they are ready to use the new technology.

EAD Portal Overview and Functionality: The EAD portal is a web-based platform through which mortgagees, their authorized users and/or their designated third-party service providers will electronically deliver all FHA origination appraisal reports prior to endorsement.

The EAD portal will allow uploads of only those appraisals that comply with FHA’s Appraisal Report and Data Delivery Guide. Mortgagors will be provided with a confirmation of successful upload, or be informed that the appraisal requires correction and resubmission.

Once an appraisal report is successfully uploaded to the EAD portal, the FHA Connection (FHAC) will pull EAD appraisal data and prefill certain data fields in the Appraisal Logging screen.
Appraisals submitted through the EAD portal remain subject to review for compliance with FHA appraisal requirements. Mortgagees remain responsible for proper underwriting of the appraisal and for ensuring the property meets FHA’s minimum property requirements and standards for serving as security for the FHA-insured mortgage. The appraiser remains accountable for appraisal quality and credibility and compliance with FHA appraisal requirements.

EAD portal Access

In order to access the EAD portal, mortgagees must appoint an “EAD Lender Administrator” to issue and maintain access credentials for their authorized users and/or designated third-party service providers to access the EAD portal on their behalf.

EAD Lender Administrators will obtain their user access credentials from the mortgagee’s FHAC Coordinator to begin the registration process. EAD Lender Administrators may register additional Administrators, authorized users and/or designated third-party service providers to access the EAD portal as needed without also registering them in FHAC.

User guides are available at the EAD resource web page and contain detailed information about user access, roles and responsibilities, data and delivery requirements, and procedures.

Upload Process

Mortgagees may access the EAD portal and upload appraisal reports in two ways. Mortgagees may use an interactive user interface upload process that allows transmission of up to 10 appraisal reports at a time, or mortgagees may implement a direct system-to-system integration with the EAD portal, which will provide for large batch upload capability.

Registration Process

FHA will offer access to the EAD portal in phases to provide flexibility in scheduling so that mortgagees can choose a migration timeframe that accommodates their assessment of required systems and operational process changes. The registration phases will be announced on FHA’s EAD resource page on or before June 15, 2015, with the registration phases beginning after June 15, 2015.

Each mortgagee will have the option to select a registration phase, and are encouraged to select the earliest phase in which they believe their systems and processes will be ready to accommodate the EAD process.

Mortgagees will receive access credentials to the EAD portal at the beginning of the registration phase that the mortgagee selects.
FHA will provide technical assistance to mortgagees in making necessary changes, and will prioritize this assistance based on the registration phase selected by the mortgagee. The mortgagee assumes the risk of not meeting the June 27, 2016 implementation deadline.

Additional information on how to register for the EAD portal can be found on the EAD resource web page.

Required Appraisal Forms and Data Format for the EAD Portal

Appraisers must continue to follow HUD/FHA guidance and comply with USPAP when completing FHA appraisals. Instructions and data delivery formats and requirements for each appraisal form are located at FHA’s Appraisal Report and Data Delivery Guide.

For the EAD portal, FHA will only accept appraisals in the Mortgage Information Standards Maintenance Organization (MISMO) 2.6 with embedded PDF format, as created directly by the appraiser (first generation). FHA does not accept private or proprietary data formats or appraisal reports that have been manipulated or “translated” by anyone or any process.

The table below details the appraisal form type and MISMO format required for each property type.
