It is to cover costs which may accrue due to taxes, mortgage insurance premiums, property insurance premiums, and assessments required by the mortgage during the period between initial endorsement and final endorsement of the mortgage for insurance, and which costs were not included in the proceeds of the mortgage.

This deposit is required only in cases of insurance advances. It is not required in cases of insurance upon completion.

H. 3. Operating funds deposit refers to those funds which are required for the organization and the operation of the group practice during the period prior to occupancy and until such time after occupancy as the income received from the group practice is sufficient to feel all of its obligations.

This deposit is not part of the mortgage security. Any balance not used for the above purposes will be available for return to the mortgagor after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Assistant Secretary-FHA Commissioner that the operation has reached a self-sustaining point.

K. 1. Taxes under this item refer to taxes on payroll, equipment or stock in trade not part of the building and equipment under K. 2. New prepaid plans must submit attachment N. 9., which will show such costs as printing, enrollment of subscribers, membership relations, etc. Insurance under K. 1. a. will include workman's compensation and other coverages, except malpractice liability, which are related to the group practice but not related to the real estate.

Equipment taxes includes any annual tax which may be levied against the professional and technical equipment and furnishings, whether included in the mortgage or not, but exclusive of such external equipment as automobiles, etc.

K. 3. This is the total of all Group Practice and of Building and Equipment expenses.

K. 4. To protect its interest during the life of the mortgage, HUD-FHA requires that projects insured by it maintain sufficient reserves for replacement of equipment, furnishings and those parts of the building and improvements which are subject to more rapid deterioration than basic building, such as roof, paved areas, hot water heater, etc. The amount indicated here is not to be confused with the depreciation expense allowed by the Internal Revenue Service in computing the net excess of income over expenses.

cost of the building and other improvements, exclusive of the air conditioning equipment. Delete words "Excl. Air Conditioning."

K. 4. b. Do not complete.

K. 4. c. This item is based upon the cost of all equipment and furnishings to be located in the facility, any equipment which is HUD-FHA insurable should be transferred to and owned by the mortgagor organization. Equipment items with a durable life of five years or less are not to be included. The formula used assumes an average life of 10 years for the equipment to be covered by the reserves.

K. 5. The estimated mortgage amount will be 90% of the estimated total cost (new) of the building and improvements (or of the cost of acquisition and rehabilitation of an existing building - refer to Chapter 1 of this Handbook) and of the estimated market value of the land; and of the cost of the professional and technical and technical equipment which is to be included in the mortgage. The constant to be used may be obtained from the local Field Office.

K. 6. When relating the total expenses and obligations shown here to the estimate of income under Item J, it may be necessary to consider the use of operating funds capital, as indicated in Item H, until a self-sustaining point has been reached.

In the case of prepaid plans, a consideration of the use of operating funds capital will be based on the relationship of Item K. 6. to Item C in Addendum A, rather than as above.
