1. This Transmits

This transmits Handbook 4940.3 Rev-1, Minimum Design Standards for Community Sewerage Systems.

2. Explanation:

This revision to the subject Handbook was necessary to comply with today's technology, EPA requirements and the Secretary's goal of updating out-of-date handbooks. The current edition of this handbook is November 1972. In order to comply with EPA requirements and the use of today's state of the art technology this handbook has been completely revised. Draft copies have been reviewed by EPA and the handbook has gone through Departmental clearance. All comments received have been considered and necessary changes made.

3. Effective Date:

December 1, 1992

________________________
Arthur J. Hill
Assistant Secretary for Housing
- Federal Housing Commissioner
November 1992

Minimum Design Standards for Community Sewerage Systems