GRANTEE SPOTLIGHT

In Rockford, Illinois, the Ellis Heights Choice Neighborhood team has developed a Transformation Plan to reverse a history of concentrated poverty and high vacancy rates and create a neighborhood of opportunity. As part of its revitalizations efforts, they have created “New Mix.”
New Mix is an arts-based community development group that was formed with the Rockford Area Arts Council and has received a $75,000 National Endowment for the Arts Our Town grant. New Mix has partnered with Etsy, an on-line marketplace, to create a platform for residents to make and sell their products – creating an innovative approach to entrepreneurship.

As part of the New Mix initiative, Etsy is working with Rockford’s public housing residents under its Craft Entrepreneurship program. The program works directly with creative people from underserved communities to help them turn their crafts into an online business that can generate a sustainable income. Through the Craft Entrepreneurship Program, budding entrepreneurs receive information and training on topics such as marketing, financial planning, and time management. Etsy’ Craft Entrepreneurship program is currently offered in more than 20 cities globally and is expanding. Click here to see a powerful video on how Rockford residents are connecting with Etsy.
