The City of Phoenix Housing Department will receive a HOPE VI Revitalization grant in the amount of $35,000,000, which will enable the housing authority to revitalize the Matthew Henson Homes public housing development. A total of 358 units will be demolished and will be replaced by 211 units on-site, including 161 public housing rental units, 30 affordable rental units, and 20 market-rate rental units. 261 units will be developed off-site: 211 public housing rental units and 50 affordable homeownership units. Fourteen of the public housing units will be historically renovated to provide space for a job-training program. In addition, a youth education center, community learning and resource center, as well as commercial space will be developed on-site. The revitalized development will provide housing and programs that will foster self-sufficiency among residents with a range of incomes. Community and supportive services programs will include but are not limited to computer training, job readiness programs, health care programs and youth programs. Approximately 586 families are expected to benefit from the provision of relocation and community and supportive services proposed in the revitalization plan. Development will take place in partnership with several entities including Legacy Partners, Atlantic Development & Investments, City of Phoenix Human Services Department and the University of Arizona. This HOPE VI Revitalization grant will leverage an additional $89,942,100 in public and private funds.
