OPEN GOVERNMENT PROGRESS REPORT

THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

One year ago today we stood with you here to see what could be better working in our government, sustainable communities and quality affordable homes for all through public-private partnerships, cooperation and transparency. It is our time to remove the barriers to innovation and information — one step closer to winning the 21st century. This "Progress Report" is designed to transparently communicate the development of these initiatives, in turn work with our constituents to rid this clear and graceful opportunity in our neighborhoods and communities.

Four phases of programs identified in the plan:
1. Identify and initiate
2. Phase 3: Plan and Develop
3. Phase 4: Deploy
4. Phase 5: Monitor & Improve

PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT

The Hill Briefer

HUD Home has seen new social media integration blogged. The HOMBLOG, and provides Spanish-language capabilities.

HUD implements new community sourcing ideas through HUD in Action.

COMMITTEE

- Provide Improved Online Feedback Capabilities for Communities
- Provide Improved Call Center Capabilities for Public
- Public Review of HUD's National Housing Policy
- Reduce litter
- Transform Business/Community

- HUD partners with OIT on
- Finalize a public
- Community development

- HUD partners with DOE on
- Develop Cloud Integration

- HUD partners with DOE on
- Create a new
- Cloud Computing

- HUD partners with DOE on
- Create a new
- Cloud Computing

- HUD partners with DOE on
- Create a new
- Cloud Computing

TRANSPARENCY

- HUD continues to release data from through HUD.gov and Data.gov
- HUD issues Public-Private Directory

FLAGSHIP INITIATIVES - IN PROGRESS

Establish an Innovation Lab to Enhance Progress and Support Area Performance

- Phase 3: Plan and Develop
- Phase 4: Deploy

Identify and Update Outstanding Policies and Practices

- Phase 3: Plan and Develop
- Phase 4: Deploy

Empower Communities to Combat Homelessness Utilizing Predictive Analytics

- Phase 3: Plan and Develop
- Phase 4: Deploy

The Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Federal Housing Finance Agency have announced on Wednesday to extend the so-called "second chance" program to help borrowers with a recent history of federal student loan default. The two agencies are working with the Treasury Department to provide the program to borrowers who have been delinquent on their student loans for at least 180 days.

Build a Business Practices

Exchange for Assisted Housing

Providers to Share Ideas

- Phase 2: Plan and Develop
- Phase 3: Plan and Develop
- Phase 4: Deploy
- Phase 5: Monitor & Improve

For more information, visit HUD.gov/Open