HUD announces Location Affordability Portal

The goal of the Location Affordability Portal is to provide the public with reliable, user-friendly data and resources on combined housing and transportation costs to help consumers, policymakers, and developers make more informed decisions about where to live, work, and invest.

There is more to housing affordability than how much rent or mortgage you pay. Transportation costs are the second-biggest budget item for most families, but to date there hasn't been an easy way for people to fully factor transportation costs into decisions about where to live and work.

Households and Real Estate Professionals

My Transportation Cost Calculator generates transportation cost estimates based on user-entered information, providing households, real estate professionals, and housing counselors customized, apples-to-apples comparisons of housing and transportation costs in different communities.

Planners, Policymakers, and Developers

Developers, planners and policymakers can use the Location Affordability Index to make data-driven decisions about local and regional planning and investment. They can also use maps and data tools to help communicate with the public about different development scenarios.

Researchers

Researchers can readily access housing and transportation cost estimate data at the Census block-group level for all 942 MSAs covered by the Location Affordability Index.

MINNESOTA WINS NATIONAL AWARDS

Riverside Plaza, a historic housing development in Minneapolis, earned the prestigious 2013 National Trust/HUD Secretary’s Award for Excellence in Historic Preservation. This award recognizes efforts that advance the Nation’s historic preservation goals while providing affordable housing and economic development opportunities for low and moderate-income residents.

The Saint Paul Foundation won the Secretary’s Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships 2013.

The Saint Paul Foundation supports large-scale, cross-sector initiatives including the 13-member Central Corridor Funders Collaborative begun in 2008 and the regional Corridors of Opportunity initiative launched in 2011.

Grant and loan funds are preserving housing affordability and seeding new development (more than 1,000 housing units and 150,000 square feet of commercial space) along three of the region’s transit corridors. In 2012 during the Central Corridor’s heavy construction season, 353 small, mostly minority-owned businesses received deep technical assistance, including business planning, marketing, and financial review.

HUD Secretary Shaun Donovan noted, “It’s organizations like these that are doing the heavy lifting to improve neighborhoods, often without much thanks. Today, we say ‘thank you!’ These foundations are teaming up with public and private partners to bring about positive change and lasting solutions that are making a real difference in their communities.”

In early November, Minnesota Housing awarded more than $54 million for affordable housing developments across the state that will create 1,904 units of affordable housing, and support thousands of jobs statewide. The announcement comes at a time when the number of Minnesotans who are cost-burdened (paying more than 30% of their income for housing) in Minnesota remains high and available affordable housing is scarce. The awards provide financing for affordable housing through deferred loans, amortizing loans, rental assistance and housing tax credits. In addition, the Agency also approved funding for rental assistance for homeless and highly mobile families with school-aged children. The initiative will provide families with stable housing which will lead to improved school attendance, and ultimately better performance in school.

“From new construction of townhomes in suburban areas to rental assistance for households with long histories of homelessness and homeless families with young children, this funding represents our deep commitment to housing stability for all Minnesotans.”

- Mary Tingerthal, Commissioner of Minnesota Housing.
The FHA Back to Work mortgage loan requires housing counseling by a HUD Approved Housing Counseling agency. If your agency is providing counseling for this loan product, please provide your information below. Posting your information in our directory will make it easy for lenders to locate participating agencies.

Federal Housing Administration’s (FHA) Maximum Loan Limits Effective for Case Numbers Assigned on or after January 1, 2014 through December 31, 2014.

Mortgagee Letter 2013-43 announces the expiration of Congressional Authority for loan limits established under the Economic Stimulus Act for 2008 (ESA), provides notice of FHA’s single family housing loan limits for Title II Forward Mortgages and Home Equity Conversion Mortgages (HECMs), and provides loan limit instructions for streamline refinance transactions without an appraisal.

About Housing Counseling: HUD provides support to a nationwide network of Housing Counseling Agencies (HCA) and counselors. HCA's are trained and approved to provide tools to current and prospective homeowners and renters so that they can make responsible choices to address their housing needs in light of their financial situations.

Do you want advice on buying a home, renting, default, foreclosure avoidance, credit issues or reverse mortgages? HUD sponsors housing counseling agencies throughout the country to provide free or low cost advice. Search the map online or search by Zipcode for a housing counseling agency near you, or call HUD's interactive voice system at: (800) 569-4287.

The 2012 Annual Homeless Assessment Report (AHAR): Volume 2 presents the most recent national estimates of homelessness, focusing on people who experience homelessness as individuals, as family members, and as members of specific subpopulations. For each of these populations, the estimates describe how homelessness has changed over time and provide a demographic profile of homelessness in America. The information pertaining to homeless veterans is incorporated into this report, and HUD will no longer issue a separate supplemental AHAR on homeless veterans.

This report is the second part of a two-volume series. The first part is called The 2012 Point-in-Time Estimates of Homelessness: Volume I of the 2012 Annual Homeless Assessment Report.

For ease in downloading and printing, the 2012 AHAR: Volume 2 Report is available in two formats—the full report and section by section.

Across the country, a growing number of public housing authorities (PHAs) have become integral to their community’s efforts to prevent and end homelessness. This willingness to partner and engage in collaborative planning is critical to both local and national success in ending homelessness.

Do you want your PHA to participate in community planning to end homelessness?

Are you looking to build or strengthen partnerships between your PHA and other organizations working to end homelessness?

Do you want to create permanent supportive housing?

Are you interested in eviction-prevention strategies for PHA residents?

Do you want to help people move on from supportive housing?

DID YOU KNOW?

A Minnesota Continuum of Care (CoC) is a local planning body for a defined geographic area responsible for establishing and operating a system to prevent and end homelessness for that area and to apply for grants under HUD’s CoC Program annual grant competition.

Minnesota Foreclosure Update
3rd Quarter 2013

With 2,972 foreclosures in Minnesota, Q3 of 2013 becomes the first quarter falling short of the 3,000 mark since 2006. Although foreclosures leveled somewhat since the previous quarter (down 3%), the statewide total was down 33 percent over the same quarter last year. It is worth noting that, despite five consecutive quarters of decline, this quarter’s foreclosure total is still roughly twice that of pre-crisis levels.
