PROGRAM: Native Hawaiian Housing Block Grant (NHHBG)

FOR: Department of Hawaiian Home Lands (DHHL)

FROM: Rodger J. Boyd, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Native American Programs, PN

TOPIC: Calculating Annual Income under the NHHBG Program

Purpose: This guidance provides instructions on how to calculate annual income under the NHHBG program for the purpose of program eligibility. It covers the three definitions of annual income that DHHL may adopt in its written policies, and identifies statutory and federally mandated exclusions from annual income.

Background: Housing assistance under the NHHBG program is generally limited to low-income native Hawaiian families. A low-income family is defined in 24 CFR Part 1006.10 as a family whose income does not exceed 80 percent of the median income for the area. Therefore, to determine if a family is eligible to receive assistance under the NHHBG program, DHHL must first determine a family’s annual income.

Calculating Annual Income: To calculate a family’s annual income for purposes of NHHBG eligibility, DHHL must follow these steps:

Step 1: Adopt a Definition in NHHBG Policies – DHHL must indicate in its written policies that govern the eligibility, admission, and occupancy of families for NHHBG assistance, the definition(s) of annual income it will use. DHHL may choose any one or more of the following three definitions of “annual income”:

1. Section 8 Definition. Annual income as defined for HUD’s Section 8 programs in 24 CFR part 5, subpart F (except when determining the income of a homebuyer for an owner-occupied rehabilitation project, the value of the homeowner’s principal residence may be excluded from the calculation of net family assets). Attachment A contains the Section 8 definition of annual income.

2. Census Definition. Annual income as reported under the U.S. Census long form for the most recent available decennial Census. This means the definition of income used by the Census, not the dollar amount reported. Attachment B contains the Census definition.

3. IRS Definition. Adjusted gross income as defined for purposes of reporting under Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form 1040 series for individual federal annual income tax purposes. DHHL should review the program participant’s appropriate past IRS 1040 Forms to obtain this information. On the 1040 Form (in 2012), this is line 37. On the 1040A Form, this is line 21. On the 1040EZ Form, this is line 4. Attachment C contains additional information on what is included and excluded in adjusted gross income on IRS Form 1040.

DHHL does not need to limit its definition to only one of the three outlined in this guidance. For example, DHHL’s policy may state that it will use the definition most advantageous to the family or to DHHL. However, DHHL must ensure that its policy is implemented consistently (internally at DHHL and by subrecipients) so that the eligibility of each family is considered consistently and fairly.

Step 2: Exclude Any NAHASDA Exclusions – Section 4(9) of the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996, as amended (NAHASDA) defines the term “income” as income from all sources of each member of the household, as determined in accordance with criteria prescribed by HUD, except that the following amounts may not be considered as income:

1. Any amounts not actually received by the family.

2. Any amounts that would be eligible for exclusion under section 1613(a)(7) of the Social Security Act. This relates to certain amounts received from the United States that are attributable to underpayments of benefits due for one or more prior months under the Social Security Act.

3. Any amounts received by any member of the family as disability compensation under Chapter 11 of Title 38, United States Code, or dependency and indemnity compensation under Chapter 13 of such Title. This relates to amounts received from the Department of Veterans Affairs by a family for service-related disabilities of a member of the family, and survivor benefits. (See PIH Notice 2011-15).

After calculating a family’s annual income under Step 1, be sure to exclude any payments that are expressly excluded from annual income under these NAHASDA exclusions.

Step 3: Exclude Any Federally Mandated Exclusions – Federally mandated exclusions are amounts specifically excluded under other federal statutes from consideration as income for purposes of determining eligibility or benefits under a category of assistance programs; which includes assistance under NAHASDA. HUD periodically publishes a notice in the Federal Register identifying the benefits that qualify for this exclusion from income. DHHL should search the Federal Register for the most current notice of “Federally Mandated Exclusions from Income,” and ensure that these amounts are not included in its calculation of annual income. As of this date, the most recent notice was published December 14, 2012, and can be found in the Federal Register at 77 FR 74495. The most recently published Federally Mandated Exclusions are also provided in Attachment D of this guidance.

Step 4: Income Verification -- DHHL must verify that a family is income-eligible based on anticipated annual income. The family’s annual income may not exceed the applicable income limit. The family is required to provide income documentation to verify this determination. DHHL must have income verification policies in place, and is required to maintain the documentation on which the determination of eligibility is based. DHHL may choose to use third party income verification methods or request documentation, such as income tax returns, W-2s, pay stubs, and other appropriate information as stipulated by its policies to adequately estimate annual income.

Timing of income verification:

- For rental housing, the family must be low-income at the time of their initial occupancy.
- The low-income eligibility requirement applies only at the time of purchase for homebuyers, or at the time of assistance for owner-occupied homeownership units receiving homeownership assistance.
- Families purchasing housing under a lease purchase agreement are eligible as long as they were low-income at the time the lease purchase agreement was signed.
- Families purchasing housing to be constructed must be low-income at the time the contract is entered into.

Further Information: Annual Income is used to determine if a household is income-eligible to receive NHHBG assistance. Adjusted Income, as defined in 24 CFR Part 1006.10, means the annual income that remains after excluding the amounts listed in that section of the NHHBG program regulations. In contrast to annual income, Adjusted Income is used to determine how much a household can afford to pay for housing costs. Payments made by low-income families for rents and payments in lease-purchase housing units may not exceed 30 percent of the family’s monthly adjusted income.

Attachment A – Section 8 Definition of Annual Income

Annual Income as defined for HUD’s Section 8 programs in 24 CFR Part 5, Subpart F

§ 5.609 Annual income.
(a) Annual income means all amounts, monetary or not, that:
   1) Go to, or go to on behalf of, the family head or spouse (even if temporarily absent) or to any other family member; or
   2) Are anticipated to be received from a source outside the family during the 12-month period following admission or annual reexamination effective date; and
   3) Are not specifically excluded in paragraph (c) of this section.
   4) Annual income also means amounts derived (during the 12-month period) from assets to which any member of the family has access.
(b) Annual income includes, but is not limited to:
   1) The full amount, before any payroll deductions, of wages and salaries, overtime pay, commissions, fees, tips and bonuses, and other compensation for personal services;
   2) The net income from the operation of a business or profession. Expenditures for business expansion or amortization of capital indebtedness shall not be used as deductions in determining net income. An allowance for depreciation of assets used in a business or profession may be deducted, based on straight line depreciation, as provided in Internal Revenue Service regulations. Any withdrawal of cash or assets from the operation of a business or profession will be included in income, except to the extent the withdrawal is reimbursement of cash or assets invested in the operation by the family;
   3) Interest, dividends, and other net income of any kind from real or personal property. Expenditures for amortization of capital indebtedness shall not be used as deductions in determining net income. An allowance for depreciation is permitted only as authorized in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. Any withdrawal of cash or assets from an investment will be included in income, except to the extent the withdrawal is reimbursement of cash or assets invested by the family. Where the family has net family assets in excess of $5,000, annual income shall include the greater of the actual income derived from all net family assets or a percentage of the value of such assets based on the current passbook savings rate, as determined by HUD;
   4) The full amount of periodic amounts received from Social Security, annuities, insurance policies, retirement funds, pensions, disability or death benefits, and other similar types of periodic receipts, including a lump-sum amount or prospective monthly amounts for the delayed start of a periodic amount (except as provided in paragraph (c)(14) of this section);
   5) Payments in lieu of earnings, such as unemployment and disability compensation, worker’s compensation and severance pay (except as provided in paragraph (c)(3) of this section);
   6) Welfare assistance payments. (i) Welfare assistance payments made under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program are included in annual income only to the extent such payments:
      (A) Qualify as assistance under the TANF program definition at 45 CFR 260.31; and
      (B) Are not otherwise excluded under paragraph (c) of this section.
      (ii) If the welfare assistance payment includes an amount specifically designated for shelter and utilities that is subject to adjustment by the welfare assistance agency in accordance with the actual cost of shelter and utilities, the amount of welfare assistance income to be included as income shall consist of:
(A) The amount of the allowance or grant exclusive of the amount specifically designated for shelter or utilities; plus
(B) The maximum amount that the welfare assistance agency could in fact allow the family for shelter and utilities. If the family's welfare assistance is ratably reduced from the standard of need by applying a percentage, the amount calculated under this paragraph shall be the amount resulting from one application of the percentage.

7) Periodic and determinable allowances, such as alimony and child support payments, and regular contributions or gifts received from organizations or from persons not residing in the dwelling;

8) All regular pay, special pay and allowances of a member of the Armed Forces (except as provided in paragraph (c)(7) of this section).

9) For section 8 programs only and as provided in 24 CFR 5.612, any financial assistance, in excess of amounts received for tuition, that an individual receives under the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.), from private sources, or from an institution of higher education (as defined under the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1002)), shall be considered income to that individual, except that financial assistance described in this paragraph is not considered annual income for persons over the age of 23 with dependent children. For purposes of this paragraph, “financial assistance” does not include loan proceeds for the purpose of determining income.

(c) Annual income does not include the following:

1) Income from employment of children (including foster children) under the age of 18 years;

2) Payments received for the care of foster children or foster adults (usually persons with disabilities, unrelated to the tenant family, who are unable to live alone);

3) Lump-sum additions to family assets, such as inheritances, insurance payments (including payments under health and accident insurance and worker's compensation), capital gains and settlement for personal or property losses (except as provided in paragraph (b)(5) of this section);

4) Amounts received by the family that are specifically for, or in reimbursement of, the cost of medical expenses for any family member;

5) Income of a live-in aide, as defined in § 5.403;

6) Subject to paragraph (b)(9) of this section, the full amount of student financial assistance paid directly to the student or to the educational institution;

7) The special pay to a family member serving in the Armed Forces who is exposed to hostile fire;

8) (i) Amounts received under training programs funded by HUD;

(ii) Amounts received by a person with a disability that are disregarded for a limited time for purposes of Supplemental Security Income eligibility and benefits because they are set aside for use under a Plan to Attain Self-Sufficiency (PASS);

(iii) Amounts received by a participant in other publicly assisted programs that are specifically for or in reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred (special equipment, clothing, transportation, child care, etc.) and that are made solely to allow participation in a specific program;

(iv) Amounts received under a resident service stipend. A resident service stipend is a modest amount (not to exceed $200 per month) received by a resident for performing a service for the PHA or owner, on a part-time basis, that enhances the quality of life in the development. Such services may include, but are not limited to, fire patrol, hall monitoring, lawn maintenance, resident initiatives coordination, and serving as a member of the PHA's governing board. No resident may receive more than one such stipend during the same period of time;
(v) Incremental earnings and benefits resulting to any family member from participation in qualifying State or local employment training programs (including training programs not affiliated with a local government) and training of a family member as resident management staff. Amounts excluded by this provision must be received under employment training programs with clearly defined goals and objectives, and are excluded only for the period during which the family member participates in the employment training program;
9) Temporary, nonrecurring or sporadic income (including gifts);
10) Reparation payments paid by a foreign government pursuant to claims filed under the laws of that government by persons who were persecuted during the Nazi era;
11) Earnings in excess of $480 for each full-time student 18 years old or older (excluding the head of household and spouse);
12) Adoption assistance payments in excess of $480 per adopted child;
13) [Reserved]
14) Deferred periodic amounts from supplemental security income and social security benefits that are received in a lump sum amount or in prospective monthly amounts.
15) Amounts received by the family in the form of refunds or rebates under State or local law for property taxes paid on the dwelling unit;
16) Amounts paid by a State agency to a family with a member who has a developmental disability and is living at home to offset the cost of services and equipment needed to keep the developmentally disabled family member at home; or
17) Amounts specifically excluded by any other Federal statute from consideration as income for purposes of determining eligibility or benefits under a category of assistance programs that includes assistance under any program to which the exclusions set forth in 24 CFR 5.609(c) apply. A notice will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and distributed to PHAs and housing owners identifying the benefits that qualify for this exclusion. Updates will be published and distributed when necessary. [Federally Mandated Exclusions listed below in Attachment D]
Attachment B - U.S. Census Definition of Income

For each person 15 years old and over, the Census counted income from the following sources:

1. Earnings. The Census Bureau classifies earnings from longest job (or self-employment) and other employment earnings into three types:
   a. Money wage or salary income is the total income people receive for work performed as an employee during the income year. This category includes wages, salary, armed forces pay, commissions, tips, piece-rate payments, and cash bonuses earned, before deductions are made for items such as taxes, bonds, pensions, and union dues.
   b. Net income from nonfarm self-employment is the net money income (gross receipts minus expenses) from one's own business, professional enterprise, or partnership.
   c. Net income from farm self-employment is the net money income (gross receipts minus operating expenses) from the operation of a farm by a person on their own account, as an owner, renter, or sharecropper.

2. Unemployment compensation includes payments the respondent received from government unemployment agencies or private companies during periods of unemployment and any strike benefits the respondent received from union funds.

3. Workers' compensation includes payments people receive periodically from public or private insurance companies for injuries received at work.

4. Social security includes social security pensions and survivors' benefits and permanent disability insurance payments made by the Social Security Administration prior to deductions for medical insurance.

5. Supplemental security income includes federal, state, and local welfare agency payments to low-income people who are 65 years old and over or people of any age who are blind or disabled.

6. Public assistance or welfare payments include cash public assistance payments low-income people receive, such as aid to families with dependent children (AFDC, ADC), temporary assistance to needy families (TANF), general assistance, and emergency assistance.

7. Veterans' payments include payments disabled members of the armed forces or survivors of deceased veterans receive periodically from the Department of Veterans Affairs for education and on-the-job training, and means-tested assistance to veterans.

8. Survivor benefits include payments people receive from survivors' or widows' pensions, estates, trusts, annuities, or any other types of survivor benefits.

9. Disability benefits include payments people receive as a result of a health problem or disability (other than those from social security).

10. Pension or retirement income includes payments from the following sources: companies or unions; federal government (Civil Service); military; state or local governments; railroad retirement; annuities or paid-up insurance policies; individual retirement accounts (IRAs), Keogh, or 401(k) payments; or other retirement income.
11. Interest income includes payments people receive (or have credited to accounts) from bonds, treasury notes, IRAs, certificates of deposit, interest-bearing savings and checking accounts, and all other investments that pay interest.

12. Dividends include income people receive from stock holdings and mutual fund shares.

13. Rents, royalties, and estates and trusts includes net income people receive from the rental of a house, store, or other property, receipts from boarders or lodgers, net royalty income, and periodic payments from estate or trust funds.

14. Educational assistance includes Pell Grants; other government educational assistance; any scholarships or grants; or financial assistance students receive from employers, friends, or relatives not residing in the student's household.

15. Child support includes all periodic payments a parent receives from an absent parent for the support of children, even if these payments are made through a state or local government office.

16. Alimony includes all periodic payments people receive from ex-spouses. Alimony excludes one-time property settlements.

17. Financial assistance from outside of the household includes periodic payments people receive from nonhousehold members. This type of assistance excludes gifts or sporadic assistance.

18. Other income includes all other payments people receive regularly such as state programs such as foster child payments, military family allotments, and income received from foreign government pensions.

The Census Bureau does not count the following receipts as income:
(1) capital gains people received (or losses they incur) from the sale of property, including stocks, bonds, a house, or a car (unless the person was engaged in the business of selling such property, in which case the CPS counts the net proceeds as income from self-employment);
(2) withdrawals of bank deposits;
(3) money borrowed;
(4) tax refunds;
(5) gifts; and
(6) lump-sum inheritances or insurance payments.
