Change to FHA Industry Call / Notice of Proposed Changes to the Maximum LTV for Loans above $625,500

Notice of Proposed Changes to the Maximum LTV for Loans above $625,500

On February 6, 2013 FHA published a Notice in the Federal Register proposing to set a 95 percent maximum LTV for FHA-insured loans over $625,500 with certain exceptions. FHA welcomes comments on the proposals set forth in this notice for a period of 30 calendar days. To read this notice in its entirety, and for information on submitting comments, see: http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2013-02-06/pdf/2013-02667.pdf

Summary: This proposed notice would make changes to the loan-to-value (LTV) financing available to qualified borrowers of FHA-insured loans. This notice proposes to set a 95 percent maximum LTV for FHA-insured loans over $625,500, with certain exemptions (should be exceptions). FHA’s annual Fiscal Year 2012 report to Congress on the financial status of the FHA Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund (MMI Fund, or Fund), reported a decline from Fiscal Year 2011 in the Fund’s statutorily mandated capital reserve ratio and cited FHA’s decision to continue taking steps to improve the MMIF’s short- and long-term outlook. HUD has determined that this proposed change to the LTV requirements is necessary to improve the health of the MMIF, while ensuring continued access to mortgage credit for American families.
